General Information

Overview

Managers work with and through others in a variety of organisational structures, each with a set of internal contextual factors. In this unit you will critically examine the role of individuals, groups and managers in the performance outcomes of organisations in a dynamic environment. You will examine the context of organisations as structural frames and the different cultures, political networks and human resource processes that emerge and how these affect the management of people. The unit addresses specific aspects of the emotional intelligence model that will allow you to identify the key competencies required of managers to effectively work with and through others. Using reflective practice as the basis for personal development, you will be required to examine, develop and acquire the conceptual knowledge, behavioural skills and attitudinal components specific to the managing others competencies including: social awareness, teamwork, conflict, empathy and change catalyst.

Assessment Tasks

1 Competency Review

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This written assignment is an exploration of one (1) competency that students can self-select from the "Managing Others" competencies examined in this unit. Students should select the competency that they wish to develop based on self-analysis and reflection, which they believe will enhance their ability to manage others.

1. Empathy
2. Teamwork/Managing Group Processes
3. Managing Conflict
4. Change Catalyst

It is important to note that the exploration is not just a review of the topic. Rather students need to identify the conceptual, behavioural and attitudinal aspects that typify managers who have developed these competencies. The key authors associated with the input-based competency movement such as Goleman, McKee, Hielregal, Salovey and Mayer, Boyatzis etc. describe the behaviours that managers who have developed this competency exhibit and MUST BE used as the basis for this section. (All of these concepts are explored and noted in powerpoints and course notes)

Students need to summarise the conceptual knowledge associated with the competency and identify the specific behaviours that managers with this competency exhibit. Furthermore students need to identify at least 2 recent studies, as reported in recognised Academic Journals, that evidence that their chosen competency leads to superior performance.

Students who do not address these behavioural characteristics using these authors are unlikely to pass this assessment. This information then becomes the analytical frame that is the basis for the reflective assignment and action plan. This report should be between 1500-1800 words in length and cite a minimum of 12-16 quality academic sources.

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Friday (27 Aug 2021) 6:00 pm AEST

Late penalties of 5% per day after the due date and time apply.

Return Date to Students

Week 8 Friday (10 Sept 2021)

Feedback will be provided via feedback studio.

Weighting

40%

Assessment Criteria

- Clear definition(s) and overview of the chosen competency, using the key authors such as Goleman, Boyatzis, Pedler etc
- A concise summary of the conceptual knowledge of the chosen competency
- A discussion of the behaviours exhibited by managers who have developed this competency, as identified by the competency authors referred to above
- Identification of at least two (2) sources of evidence that managers with this competency are more effective or demonstrate superior performance.
- Breadth and quality of research, using a minimum of 12-16 academic sources.
- Correctly using the APA in text referencing system to cite academic sources.

As Masters students, you are required to engage in research as per the Australia Quality Framework (AQF) guidelines. Two specific requirements need to be considered. Students need to demonstrate "a body of knowledge that includes the understanding of recent developments in the discipline and/or area of professional practice, and demonstrate "knowledge of research principles and methods applicable to a field of work and/or learning". Each topic in your unit has a number of required weekly readings in terms of academic texts, journals and business publications that represent the appropriate body of knowledge and recent developments referred to by the AQF. In order to demonstrate the ability to engage in appropriate research, students should read and utilise these texts and journals and publications, and as Masters students, indicate a willingness to research beyond this minimum standard through additional texts, journals and studies that demonstrate an ability to engage in independent research. A detailed rubric and audio file is available in the Assessment Folder of the Unit Moodle Site provides further information regarding this assessment.

2 Reflective Practice and Learning Plan

Assessment Type

Reflective Practice Assignment

Task Description

The purpose of the assignment is to increase the student's self-awareness by analysing and reflecting on their level of managing others capability. There are several analytical components to this assignment that include self analysis reflection and the development of a personal developmental plan.

Students must describe a recent work related incident that involved the specific managing others competency identified in assignment one. Students should endeavour to describe specific behaviours actions statements and attitudes they displayed in the incident.

Using the conceptual and behavioural framework of the selected competency described in assignment one, students are to identify the extent to which they demonstrated knowledge of the managing others competency via their actions, and the extent to which they demonstrated the behavioural characteristics of leaders who have developed this competency. Students are then to undertake a minimum of three (3) diagnostic tools, one (1) of which may be general personality type tools including the MBTI, Big 5 or Quinn Managerial Types,, and a minimum of two (2) tools directly assessing the chosen competency. Students are to identify the actual results of the tests and discuss what they mean regarding their preferences. Fore example studenst who select Empathy should undertake the BEES questionnaire or Toronto Empathy Diagnostic etc. Undertaking teh Belbin Team questionnaire or Thomas Khilmann Conflict questionnaire are not appropriate for Empathy, despite being related competencies. Similarly tools completed in other units such as the Johari Window, Leadership Styles Questionnaire or Learning styles tool, etc., are not specifically aligned to the competencies examined in this unit and are therefore deemed inappropriate. This information is to be used as a reflection to ascertain the key knowledge or behavioural gaps from the incident described. Students must identify a minimum of two learning needs from this behavioural and conceptual analysis.

The last requirement of this assignment is the mapping of a personal development plan. This must include a minimum of four specific activities designed to address the conceptual and behavioural knowledge required to enhance the selected competency. These activities may include identified readings from recognised texts or academic journals, attendance at specific workshops or training sessions organised by third parties including institutes such as the Australian Institute of Management, the Institute of Managers and Leaders or local TAFE or VET colleges, electives at CQU relevant to the competency, mentoring activities and or journaling. These activities must include a brief outline of timelines and how the activity will address either conceptual or behavioural development.

This report should be between 1500-2000 words in length and cite a minimum of 12 quality academic sources. critical leadership competency that they believe will enhance their ability to effectively manage others.

This section can be presented in either descriptive or in table form.

Please note these are the minimum requirements. Students who meet the minimum standards should not expect a grade higher than a pass.

To assist students, rubrics and an audio file outlining expectations are available on the Moodle site.

Assessment Criteria

1. Clear description of an incident involving the student and the selected competency
2. An analysis of the action and behaviours exhibited in the incident against the conceptual and behavioural frame from Assignment 1
3. Inclusion and understanding of a minimum of three relevant diagnostic tools distributed or completed in class. (Results sheet attached as appendices)
4. Demonstration of self-analysis, including reflection on diagnostic results directly linked to examples of own behaviour and relevant conceptual and behavioural competency literature
5. Presentation of a development plan that identifies specific activities and appropriate time-frames for implementation.
6. Breadth and quality of research, using a minimum of 12-16 academic sources.

3 Group Analysis and Presentation

Assessment Type

Presentation

Task Description

All students will be allocated to a group by the Unit coordinator in week 6 of term and this will normally not be negotiable. All students will be required to deliver a presentation with accompanying PowerPoints and an executive summary.

This presentation is based on Henry Mintzberg's concept of "organisational fit". He proposes that organisations need to have the right structure for their external context and that the internal components, such as policies, culture and informal systems, need to align with the correct structure. He suggests that many organisational problems can be attributed to organisations having the wrong structure and poor alignment rather than individual performance always being the primary cause.

Groups will be offered the opportunity to examine an organisation with which they are familiar (Typically this means one student needs to be working in that organisation) or will be provided with a case study by the facilitator.

For this presentation, groups will assume the role of organisational consultants, external to the organisation, similar to consultants from companies such as KPMG, Ernst and Young, etc., and focus on an organisation with which they are familiar. The group should assume that they are presenting to the organisation's CEO or Board, identifying the organisational context by using Bolman and Deal's four frames as the basis for analysis. The specific frame or frames to be used will be linked to the nature of the case or organisation. The second part of the presentation is to examine a specific aspect of the organisation or case that is linked to either a performance management, industrial or change management issue.

Students are expected to provide up to three supported recommendations to address the issues identified. Each member of the group is required to contribute to the preparation and delivery of each of the presentations.

Each group should develop a presentation of approximately 15 minutes and develop a 1000-word Executive report.

Assessment Due Date

Week 12 Friday (8 Oct 2021) 6:00 pm AEST

Students will normally present in class, however a pre-recorded ppt with audio may also be an option depending on Covid developments, or if studying in online mode.

Return Date to Students

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
