General Information

Overview

Managers work with and through others in a variety of organisational structures, each with a set of internal contextual factors. In this unit you will critically examine the role of individuals, groups and managers in the performance outcomes of organisations in a dynamic environment. You will examine the context of organisations as structural frames and the different cultures, political networks and human resource processes that emerge and how these affect the management of people. The unit addresses key competencies required of managers to effectively work with and through others, including teamwork, empathy and trust, and conflict management. Using reflective practice as the basis for personal development, you will be required to examine, develop and acquire the conceptual knowledge, behavioural skills and attitudinal components needed to be an effective manager.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Weighting of the learning log task

Recommendation

The weighting for the learning log task should be reduced from 30 to 20 percent, as this more adequately reflects the volume of work required.

Monitor impacts of AI on assessment tasks

Recommendation

Monitor whether the use of AI is impacting student ability to achieve high marks in the main written assignment (assessment 2).

Feedback from Student evaluation

Review course for real-world examples to ensure relevance

Recommendation

Review opportunities to provide real world examples during weekly workshops and in the assessment tasks so that the unit is not too theory-driven, but also has real-world relevance.
