

MRKT13014 New Product Development and Branding

Term 1 - 2024

Profile information current as at 07/05/2024 06:44 am

All details in this unit profile for MRKT13014 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit aims to introduce theories and strategies of new product development and product management over its life cycle. In an increasingly competitive global market, the importance of developing and improving an existing or new product with a greater brand value is challenging. A new product development and its branding strategies require a substantial budget, time, institutional resources and collaboration. In this unit, you will learn the new product development processes, market appraisal and cost-benefit analysis of new product development and implementation. You will examine effective brand management processes and strategies to launch a new product. This unit will introduce a number of proven models and frameworks to analyse each of the stages of new product development processes, life cycle strategies, social challenges, brand equity models and brand strategies.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback

Students valued the provision of assessment guidelines, marking rubrics, marking sheets, and exemplars.

Recommendation

Continue to provide students with assessment support in the form of assessment guidelines, marking rubrics, marking sheets, and exemplars. These resources to be centrally located in the assessment resources folder on the unit Moodle site for easy access.

Students valued being able to communicate with the unit coordinator through scheduled weekly Zoom workshops that address weekly learning activities and to spend time discussing assessments.

Recommendation

Offer weekly Zoom workshops to address learning activities and to discuss assessments. All Zoom sessions are to be recorded and uploaded to the unit Moodle site within 24 hours for the benefit of students who cannot participate.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Assess the social and business challenges of new product development, and the importance of socially innovative products/services in an organisation
2. Evaluate new product development processes, including product portfolio analysis, marketing planning models, cost-benefit analysis, and brand equity concepts
3. Critically examine the factors contributing to success and failure of new product development
4. Develop a new product development plan and branding strategies.

Assessment Tasks

1 Assessment 1

Assessment Type

Case Study

Task Description

The Assessment 1 task requires you to read the case study from chapter 4 of the prescribed textbook (pp. 134-138) titled 'Gore-Tex and W.L Gore & Associates: an innovative company and a contemporary culture' and then answer in your own words the following four questions:

- Q1. Explain what happened to the Gore-Tex brand after the patent expired. What activity can firms use to try to maintain any advantage developed during the patent protection phase?
- Q3. It seems that Gore Associates is heavily orientated towards technology; what are some of the dangers of being too heavily focused on technology?
- Q4. Cooperatives and share-ownership schemes provide many attractions and benefits, but there are also limitations; discuss these.
- Q5. What has been the Gore strategy to achieving success in its markets? How is this strategy now being challenged?

You will present your case study answers in a Word document. This Word document should be 1000 words maximum excluding the title page and reference list.

Instructions

- This is an individual assessment (no groups).
- For each answer, it is expected that you make your own decisions based on the information provided and justify them using additional sources of information.
- The case study is accessible to all students (as a PDF file) inside the Assessment tile in the Assessment 1 section.
- Submit your case study answers online through the Assessment tile on the unit Moodle site.

Your Word document should contain the following:

- A single Word document (no PDF), including a title page, answers to all four questions plus a reference list, using APA referencing style.
- Use in-text of at least five (5) quality sources of information such as from academic journal articles, academic textbooks, trade journals, newspaper articles and industry/business websites.
- Use size 12 font with double line-spacing in this Word document.

Skills

- Case studies demonstrate problem-solving, decision-making, and communication skills.

2 Assessment 2

Assessment Type

Practical Assessment

Task Description

The Assessment 2 task requires you to develop and write a marketing strategy statement proposal for a new product/service idea of your own creation. You will present the marketing strategy statement proposal as a single Word document. This Word document should be 2000 words maximum excluding the title page and reference list.

Your task is to choose ONE (1) of the industry options listed below, then identify and focus on one existing Australian-based business/organisation in that industry to develop and write a marketing strategy statement proposal for a new product/service idea of your own creation targeting the Australian market.

1. Healthcare.
2. Renewable energy.
3. Technology.
4. Tourism.
5. Education and Training.

NB: The Australian-based business/organisation option you select and the new product/service idea you come up with will also be used in the Assessment 3 task.

Your marketing strategy statement proposal for a new product/service idea should include and address each of the following:

1. Write a marketing strategy statement for the purpose of proposing a new product/service idea for your chosen Australian-based business/organisation.
2. Describe how you would conduct a business analysis for your new product/service idea.
3. Outline why innovative products/services might be important to your chosen Australian-based business/organisation.
4. To narrow down the 'concept' of your new product/service idea, explain what makes your new/product service idea unique and whom it would likely appeal to and why.
5. What do you need to consider ensuring your new product/service offering, and likely business model, can be adopted? Can your new product/service remain sustainable? (i.e., the social and business challenges of new product development).
6. Outline what other strategies your selected Australian-based business/organisation could use to source new product/service ideas and how this might be incorporated into their new product/service development strategy.

Instructions

- This is an individual assessment (no groups).

- Submit your Word document online through the Assessment tile on the unit Moodle site.

Your Word document should contain the following:

- A single Word document (no PDF), including a title page, that addresses the six key parts above plus a reference list, using APA referencing style.
- Use in-text of at least ten (10) quality sources of information such as from academic journal articles, academic textbooks, trade journals, newspaper articles and industry/business websites.
- Use size 12 font with double line-spacing in this Word document.

Skills

- New products/services are the lifeblood and revenue stream of any business/organisation.
- This is a challenging assignment. It will provide you with the opportunity to undertake a significant piece of work with a practical commercial application.

Assessment Due Date

Week 7 Friday (26 Apr 2024) 11:45 pm AEST

3 Assessment 3

Assessment Type

Report

Task Description

The Assessment 3 task requires you to prepare a new product development plan for your new product/service idea from the Assessment 2 task. Assume this new product development plan will be for the senior management of your chosen Australian-based business/organisation. Your new product development plan will be written as a formal business report. This report should be 2000 words maximum excluding the title page and reference list.

Your new product development plan should include and address each of the following:

1. Title page

- The title page will include the name of your Australian-based business/organisation and the proposed name of your new product/service, your name, student ID number and lecturer/tutor name and campus (for on-campus students) and course name and code.

2. Executive summary

- The executive summary should not read like an introduction to an essay. You need to highlight only those critical aspects from your new product development plan.
- Outline only the main findings and recommendations from the report.
- Use of subheadings, dot, or bullet points is recommended to better present the required information.

3. Table of contents

- The table of contents will present each section of the new product development plan, including subheadings, with their appropriate page number(s). Sections should be numbered (e.g. 1.0 Introduction). The introduction begins on page 1. Pages prior to the introduction use lower case Roman numerals such as i, ii, iii, iv, etc.

4. Introduction

- The introduction should present a brief outline of the chosen Australian-based business/organisation and your proposed new product/service that is the major focus of this new product development plan. In addition, the aims and structure of the report should be presented.

5. Business analysis

- Define or describe your idea. What exactly is the product/service you want to develop?
- Identify your market. What will set this new product/service apart from your competition? What is the benefit of your proposed new product/service? What are your target customers' frustrations with similar products/services on the market?

6. Prototype testing

- Provide some ideas for making/building and testing your new product/service.

7. Marketing strategy and plan

- Provide a strategy for marketing your new product/service to your targeted customers. What is the USP? What will be the branding strategy adopted?

8. Product/service launch

- When, how, and where will you launch the new product/service?

9. Reviewing the product/service

- How are you going to keep your share of the market after your new product/service is launched? How do you innovate to keep yourself ahead of other products/services and businesses?

10. Intellectual property (IP) protection

- How will you stop competitors from copying your new product/service?

11. Conclusion

- In your opinion, why do you think your new product/service is likely to succeed? What might hinder the success of your new product/service?

12. Reference list

- Using APA referencing style, the new product development plan should include at least ten (10) quality sources of information such as from academic journal articles, academic textbooks, trade journals, newspaper articles and industry/business websites.

Instructions

- This is an individual assessment (no groups).
- Submit your formal business report online through the Assessment tile on the unit Moodle site.

Your formal business report should contain the following:

- A single Word document (no PDF) that includes and addresses all twelve key parts above.
- Use in-text of at least ten (10) quality sources of information such as from academic journal articles, academic textbooks, trade journals, newspaper articles and industry/business websites.
- Use size 12 font with double line-spacing in this Word document.

Skills

- A new product development plan is widely used by businesses/organisations to identify the process and timeline to design, create and build their products/services.
- This is a challenging assignment. It will provide you with the opportunity to undertake a significant piece of work with a practical commercial application.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
