General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will explore composition and production techniques for film and game audio in the creation of an original score for visual media. You will analyse the composition and sound design techniques of a range of visual media from film to game audio and learn a range of techniques that underpin these styles. You will further explore recording, synthesis and sampling techniques in composing for visual media. In the major portfolio assessment, you will be required to plan for and create an original score and sound design elements for a piece of visual media.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Staff reflection

Feedback

Assessment task

Recommendation

Modify Assessment Task 2 to involve the submission of a full 1-minute draft of the final creative work. This adjustment aims to provide students with the opportunity to receive feedback earlier in the process, facilitating timely guidance and allowing for iterative improvements before the final submission, thereby enhancing the overall learning experience.
