

NURS11162 Inclusive Practice for Nursing

Term 3 - 2018

Profile information current as at 03/05/2024 01:43 pm

All details in this unit profile for NURS11162 have been officially approved by CQU University and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit will enable you to explore concepts of equity and diversity in relation to inclusive practice and its relevance in the delivery of health care. You will be asked to review dimensions of culturally responsive health care including health literacy and cultural competence in order to improve work practice. You will be introduced to the historical and contemporary influences that affect poorer health outcomes for Indigenous Australians and vulnerable, disadvantaged and stigmatised population groups.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit evaluation

Feedback

Prescribed textbook only used in first part of term

Recommendation

Textbook Best & Fredericks (2017). Yatdjuligin: Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander nursing and midwifery care (2nd ed.) to be listed as a Supplementary textbook. Students are advised that this textbook will also be useful throughout their entire studies.

Feedback from Unit evaluation

Feedback

Improve location of ZOOM tutorial recordings

Recommendation

Include ZOOM tutorial recordings in weekly module tabs for ease of access

Feedback from Unit evaluation, peer feedback

Feedback

Positive comments on the wide variety of unit resources and the positive effect that content had on lifelong learning

Recommendation

Continue to embed wide-ranging resources that appeal to different learning styles and promote strong student engagement.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Examine concepts of equity and diversity in relation to inclusive practice
2. Explore the dimensions of culturally responsive health care including health literacy and communication, as related to nursing practice
3. Evaluate the impact of health policy on health outcomes of vulnerable, disadvantaged and stigmatised population groups
4. Compare the historical and contemporary influences on the health outcomes of Indigenous Australians to other Australian cultural groups.

The learning outcomes are linked to the Australian Nursing and Midwifery Accreditation Council (ANMAC) Standards for registered nurses and the Nursing and Midwifery Board of Australia (NMBA) registered nurse standards for practice.

Assessment Tasks

1 Culturally responsive care

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Assessment aims

The aim of your assignment is to write an essay on culturally responsive care in the Australian health care context using academically credible literature to support your discussion. The purpose of your assignment is to explore the barriers to accessing health care for two culturally diverse but distinct groups in Australia, then relate the Cultural Safety Model Framework to improving access to health care for all people from culturally diverse population groups.

In order to meet this aim, you are to engage in the weekly unit material and tutorials from Modules 1-6, where a number of resources are offered that will support your response to this assessment task. The general purpose of this assignment is to integrate research and theory into your response and is designed to help develop your critical thinking skills.

Task description

In forming your response, you are to address the following three criteria:

1. Identify one social, political or economic historical event for First Nation Australians and discuss the influence that this has had on the health outcomes for First Nation's people who live in today's society.
2. Identify a topic reported in the Australian media that negatively portrays a minority migrant group and discuss the effect this has on the health and wellbeing for that particular population group in Australia. The media report must have occurred within the last 12 months.
3. Using Ramsden's Cultural Safety Model (1991) framework, discuss the role and responsibilities of the nurse in the delivery of patient care for people from an ethnic minority group in Australia.

Instructions to Students

In order to successfully complete the requirements of this assessment, students will need to actively engage in the resources offered by Academic Learning Centre (ALC) available in the sub-Moodle site associated with NURS11162, including weekly tutorial sessions.

You are to use headings and therefore a contents page for this assignment. Headings serve as a guide in first-year academic writing. This will also give you practice in how to format a contents page. The ALC will guide you in this. When addressing the assignment topic, you will need to use contemporary literature (<5 years) to support your discussion. When sourcing information, consider the five elements of a quality reference: currency, authority, relevance, objectivity, and coverage. References sourced from the world-wide-web must be from reputable websites such as from government, university, or peak national bodies, for example, the Australian College of Nursing. A minimum of seven up-to-date references, including two journal articles as well as relevant books and websites are to be used.

A 2000-word limit has been set for this assignment. A 10% leeway on either side of the word limit is accepted. Word count is measured from the first word of the introduction to the last word of the conclusion and includes in-text referencing. Not included in the word count are the title page, contents page and reference list.

To help scaffold your assessment you should allow approximately 10% (200 words) each for the introduction and conclusion and approximately 530-550 words for each of the three criteria listed in the Task Description above.

- Write in the third person language
- Use double-line spacing and Arial 11-point font throughout
- Include a title page with student name, student number, unit code, unit name, term date and year, names of unit coordinators, name of assignment, due date for submission, and actual word count.
- Include a reference list correctly formatted to APA referencing style
- Include a header with the page numbers and a footer with your student name and student number in the same font style as the body of your assignment
- Submit your Assessment Task 1 by the due date
- Submit via Moodle
- Upload with the file named in the following format: Surname_ First name_ Student number_ A1

Assessment Due Date

Week 6 Wednesday (19 Dec 2018) 12:00 am AEST

Return Date to Students

Week 10 Wednesday (23 Jan 2019)

Students will receive feedback in sufficient time to incorporate any feedback prior to submission of Assessment Task 2

2 Equitable health care for marginalised and stigmatised groups

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Assessment aim

The aim of this assignment is to write a commentary paper on equitable health care for marginalised and stigmatised groups. The paper should be suitable for publication in the Australian College of Nursing (ACN)'s quarterly magazine called the 'Hive'. In order to meet this aim, you are to engage in the weekly unit material and tutorials from Modules 7-11, where a number of resources are offered that will support your response to this assessment task. The general purpose of this assignment is to integrate research and theory into your response and is designed to help develop your critical thinking skills.

Task description

The following scenario is designed to put this hypothetical exercise into context. Queensland experiences environmental disasters (e.g., floods and cyclones) resulting in many presentations to healthcare services for a variety of reasons. As a nurse in a local Queensland hospital following a cyclone in your area, you became concerned about healthcare professional attitudes towards some of the patients who appeared to be treated less favourably than others because of their background. You want to raise these concerns with a higher authority and decide to write to the editor of Hive magazine to appeal to the wider nursing community.

You are to select two of the marginalised and stigmatised groups in society from the list below. As part of your commentary paper you must address the following three criteria using academically credible literature to support your discussion. Your response must include at least one government policy to support your discussion. For your two chosen groups:

1. Discuss inequitable health care as a human rights issue.
2. Discuss how stigmatisation by healthcare professionals can impact on poorer health outcomes, including effects on health literacy.
3. Discuss inclusive practices as a nursing responsibility in promoting equitable healthcare.

Choose two marginalised groups from the following list:

- People with intellectual disability
- People who are homeless
- People who use illicit drugs
- People identifying as LGBTIQ (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Intersex, Queer & Questioning)

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
