Term 1 - 2019

Profile information current as at 30/04/2024 07:07 am

All details in this unit profile for OCCT11002 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit will provide you with a clear understanding of the fundamental theoretical frameworks that guide occupational therapy practice. An historical overview of the profession will be presented so that you can contrast the changes and plot the evolution of occupational therapy practice from the profession's foundations to the present day. The practical application of occupational theory as it drives contemporary occupational therapy practice will be introduced via one key occupational therapy practice model. You will be introduced to the regulatory and professional bodies guiding ethical occupational therapy practice locally and internationally. Skill development will focus on the acquisition of qualitative and quantitative information gathering techniques including interviewing and the application of standardised and non-standardised assessments.

If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from "Have your say"

Feedback

The teaching team were engaging and supportive. It was an advantage having a number of perspectives from which to present material.

Recommendation

This reinforces the decision to ensure students on both campuses have access to an instructor in person during class; which will remain as a goal for the unit structure.

Feedback from "Have your say" Staff observations

Feedback

There was not enough time during interview practice sessions to consolidate skills.

Recommendation

Practical sessions will be reorganised in 2019 to ensure students get sufficient time for practice and feedback.

Feedback from "Have your say" Staff reflection

Feedback

Timing of the final assessment and provision of related case studies requires review.

Recommendation

The final presentation assessment occurred in the same week as a large assessment piece from another unit. The timing of assessments will be reviewed next year to minimize the impact of other assessments. Case studies for the presentation will also be provided to students at an earlier date.

Feedback from Informal student feedback; "Have your say"

Feedback

Content was considered engaging, useful and interesting.

Recommendation

Unit content and structure will continue in the current format, with ongoing reviews to ensure relevance remains current.

Feedback from Discussions with the WIL Team; staff reflections

Feedback

Preclinical requirements should no longer be included as an assessment task for this unit.

Recommendation

The Pass/Fail preclinical requirement portfolio will be removed as an assessment item from this unit. It will instead be monitored by the WIL team as part of their processes.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Explain the theory and philosophy that underpins the profession of occupational therapy
2. Demonstrate an understanding of the development and scope of the occupational therapy profession over time
3. Describe the occupational therapy practice process across various contexts
4. Conduct person-centred information gathering processes.

This content contributes to the development of Occupational Therapy Australia Competencies for Entry Level Practitioners.

Written Assessment

Task Description

This essay-based assessment will require you to reflect on the underpinning philosophy of occupational therapy, and how it has evolved over the profession's history. You will also be required to describe the significance of "occupation" and its place in contemporary occupational therapy practice, using clinical examples to illustrate.

You will also reflect on how your understanding of the practice of occupational therapy has developed as a result of researching and writing this paper.

2 Interview and communication analysis (40%)

Assessment Type

Practical and Written Assessment

Task Description

This assessment will allow you to develop your emerging skills of interviewing and information gathering. You will prepare an interview schedule (list of questions/themes) and conduct a 15 minute interview with a "standardised client" (an actor plays this role). Interviews will be held at CQU and scheduled to occur in Week 9; you will be given a time in which to conduct the interview, we will arrange for the "client" to be present.

You are responsible for ensuring that the environment is appropriate for conducting an interview. The purpose of the interview is to establish a therapeutic relationship, learn about the occupational performance of this person and explore any occupational barriers they are experiencing. During the interview you are expected to draw on the theoretical knowledge and practical skills you have developed in the unit to date. Your choice of questions and information gathering approaches should demonstrate evidence of your understanding of different forms of information gathering.

Your understanding of professional reasoning and ethical practice should be implicit in all your interactions.

The interview will be video-recorded and on completion of your interview you will receive an electronic copy of the recording to take away and complete a reflection on your interview performance. You will use a self-assessment to guide your reflection.

You will submit your interview schedule and your completed self-reflection by the due date.

You will be provided with a case study containing details of your client in class during Week 5. You are required to prepare a 10 minute presentation for a student and professional audience that systematically outlines how you would apply occupational therapy practice processes, including theoretical foundations, information gathering and assessment, identification of occupational issues, collaborative goal setting, and intervention planning.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
