

OCCT12002 Occupational Justice: Local and Global

Term 2 - 2018

Profile information current as at 03/05/2024 10:38 pm

All details in this unit profile for OCCT12002 have been officially approved by CQUUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will be introduced to the evolving concept of occupational justice and explore situations where people are deprived of meaningful occupation. You will use an occupational justice lens to look from a local and global perspective at situations where people are experiencing challenges with occupational participation and engagement. The role of the occupational therapist as a facilitator of occupational justice will be examined, using both an occupational justice framework and also occupational therapy practice models. You will develop an understanding of how occupational justice sits with social justice concepts and considerations, including concepts such as social innovation.

Pre-requisites or Co-requisites

Successful completion of the following units as essential pre-requisites: OCCT11002 OCCT12006

Important note: Students enrolled in a subsequent unit who failed their pre-requisite unit, should drop the subsequent unit before the census date or within 10 working days of Fail grade notification. Students who do not drop the unit in this timeframe cannot later drop the unit without academic and financial liability. See details in the Assessment Policy and Procedure \(Higher Education Coursework\).

Offerings For Term 2 - 2018

- Bundaberg
- Rockhampton

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Have Your Say

Feedback

Engaged delivery of unit material - overall theme of this feedback indicates students want a balance of content delivery across the ISL from both campuses.

Recommendation

The delivery of the content will be reviewed by the unit coordinator for the T2 2018 offering. There will be additional opportunities for engaging learning activities such as in-class debates, interactive topics on Moodle forums and workshops designed to consolidate the theoretical content.

Feedback from Have Your Say

Feedback

Communication of assessment requirements

Recommendation

In addition to strategies already utilised (Unit Profile, Moodle and in-class questions and answers), specific content will be devoted to explaining assessment requirements in the first week of term in T2 2018.

Feedback from Have Your Say and in-class feedback

Feedback

Content and design elements such as videos, debates, student-led Moodle forum discussions and visits to community agencies were highlighted by students as positives from this unit.

Recommendation

These features of the unit will remain in the T2 2018 offering.

Feedback from Have Your Say and in-class feedback

Feedback

Assessment Design and Assessment Feedback was highlighted as contributing to learning objectives

Recommendation

Feedback strategies as utilised by the unit coordinator and casual lecturer will continue to be implemented in T2 2018 and the general range of assessments will also remain, with some minor updates and improvements.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Articulate the concept of occupational justice at a local and global level.
2. Identify and describe situations where people are deprived of meaningful occupation and explore the causes.
3. Articulate the role of the occupational therapy in promoting occupational justice.
4. Identify and describe occupational injustice occurring in a local community and the programs and measures being taken to address those injustice issues.

Term Specific Information

Assessment Tasks

1 Group Work Presentation - article

Assessment Type

Presentation

Task Description

This assessment requires you to undertake a Group Work task based on an analysis of a piece of occupational justice literature. This is a presentation activity. This assessed Group Work Presentation assessment is designed to facilitate early engagement in the unit material.

You are required, in pairs or small groups as allocated in week 1 by the unit coordinator, to present on ONE journal paper from the OCCT12002 material reading list for tutorial discussion in the relevant learning module. This reading list will be supplied to you in week 1 and is in addition to the weekly readings. Use of Powerpoint to prepare the key points is recommended, so as to facilitate creating a summary for posting on Moodle.

Up to four key questions should be prepared to facilitate tutorial discussion about this journal paper including its findings, strengths, limitations and implications. All sources must be acknowledged using APA referencing style. Each student within a pair/group will receive the same mark based upon the delivery of the assessment presentation, so it is important that work allocations are shared equally, that your partner/group is accountable for their contribution to the overall assessment. As part of this assessment, student peers will be expected to read the paper, provide constructive feedback and discuss questions raised as part of the tutorial discussion on each paper presented.

Use the following as a guide to prepare your powerpoint presentation slides:

1. Study title & aim of the paper (1 slide)
2. Background - key literature that provides justification for the paper (2 slides max)
3. The occupational justice issues raised (2-4 slides)
4. Your appraisal - strengths, limitations, contribution to your understanding of occupational justice and implications for occupational therapy (2 slides) - use your skills from EBP here
5. Issues/questions - up to 4 questions that you have identified for discussion (1 slide)

The presentation is required to be for a length of 20 minutes, which includes facilitating the class discussion.

Assessment Due Date

These presentations will occur during week 5

2 Occupational Justice at the global/collective level

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

This task is designed to give you understanding and perspectives when whole communities may be affected by occupational injustices. It will assist you to develop skills in reflection, analysis, professional reasoning and report-writing, particularly in relation to occupational justice. Your research must include journal articles and text book sources as provided in the unit materials and you must demonstrate evidence of wider reading of the professional, peer-reviewed literature. Please include a minimum of fifteen references in your reference list. Your report must be structured by analysis of the following:

- Description of the issue
- The occupational injustice themes that have arisen as a result of this
- The occupational challenges experienced by the group/population in question
- An analysis of the occupational therapy role or opportunities for occupational therapy contribution to promoting occupational justice
- Explanation of how you would apply the POJF or the CORE approach to this issue to ensure inclusive and occupation-focused practice

Please use headings in your report in accordance with the points above. You may use tables, figures and diagrams. You may choose to develop a topic from the following list of general themes where there is a 'collective' issue rather than just a focus on an individual issue.

Occupational justice issues at the collective level. You may take a global perspective if you choose.

1. Children and young people at risk (due to e.g. poverty, war, marginalisation)
2. Gender and sexual identity e.g. violence against women, mothering roles
3. Refugees – impact of fleeing war conditions, detention centres, resettlement, restricted play, access to employment and housing
4. Indigenous peoples and communities – health and cultural strategies
5. Social inclusion – groups with disabilities (school, work, recreation and leisure)

3 Advocacy, Changemaking and Social Innovation in Our Local Communities

Assessment Type

Report

Task Description

This assessment focuses you on occupational justice issues at the local level. You are required to research and engage with a local community volunteer/service organisation in the Central Queensland and Wide Bay regions. You will be issued with relevant lists by the teaching team at the commencement of term.

Choose one of the organisations.

Research the organisation's mission, the clientele it serves and the nature of programs and services it provides.

Commence a journal to document your research and engagement with the organisation. A template will be provided to guide you.

You may start out doing online research to understand the organisation's structure, vision, mission statements, target client/consumer population and staffing.

The organisation may be one that you already volunteer with- please check with the lecturing team about suitability in the context of OCCT12002.

As part of immersing yourself in the occupational justice experience, you may wish to consider volunteering in your chosen organisation. Although volunteering is not a requirement of you as part of OCCT12002, it would enhance the depth of your learning and you are asked to consider it as an option. Please note that you may have to provide relevant paperwork checks to that organisation, and undergo their orientation process.

At the very least, you are expected to organise a meeting and spend some time at the service (at the convenience of the organisation and its' personnel).

It is recommended that you approach the organisation (with a letter of introduction - template supplied by the unit coordinator) and request an interview with a service manager/program manager/CEO in order to obtain more details and enrich your knowledge about their services.

At the conclusion of this process, and by the end of term, you will submit a report. There are two phases to this report. It includes:

Phase One:

1. you will develop an original brochure or leaflet which captures the essence of the service/organisation. This includes the mission, values, description of clientele, and other relevant information.
2. you will have this ready and available in Week 12 of term. You will submit your electronic copy via email to the unit coordinator by midday on Thursday 4th October.
3. you will show the electronic copy in a brief presentation to your classmates in the scheduled classtime in week 12 of term (Friday 5th October). Please provide a professional executive summary to your peers (do not exceed 5 minutes).

Phase Two:

1. Your journal reflections - this occurs each time you have contact with the organisation. This includes your initial research of their website, for example, your first phone call to them, visits and subsequent engagement with the organisation.

2. Description and analysis of your experiences (1500 word minimum/2000 word maximum). The description and analysis must cover the following:

- Identify and describe the situations where people accessing the local services are experiencing occupational injustice and explore the causes
- Consider why they require the services of this organisation and how is it supporting them (would they otherwise experience occupational alienation, marginalisation, imbalance etc?)
- Identify and describe how the services being provided are promoting occupational participation and engagement (and relate these to occupational justice concepts)
- Analyse the local organisation's contribution to social innovation, change-making and advocacy

- Identify and describe ways in which your skills and knowledge as an occupational therapist might contribute to the work and services that are being offered by this organisation. How could you be a changemaker?

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
