OCCT12002 Occupational Justice: Local and Global

Term 2 - 2027

Profile information current as at 07/09/2026 09:26 pm

All details in this unit profile for OCCT12002 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will be introduced to the evolving concept of occupational justice and explore situations where people are deprived of meaningful occupation. You will use an occupational justice lens to look from a local and global perspective at situations where people are experiencing challenges with occupational participation and engagement. The role of the occupational therapist as a facilitator of occupational justice will be examined, using both an occupational justice framework and also occupational therapy practice models. You will develop an understanding of how occupational justice sits with social justice concepts and considerations, including concepts such as social innovation.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE feedback

Feedback

The use of both Microsoft TEAMS and Moodle made it challenging to know where to access unit updates or information.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the teaching team choose one communication platform and use it for consistent communication with students throughout the term.

Feedback

The unit content was insightful and informative, however, care should be taken to ensure a safe learning environment is maintained when discussing topics such as inclusion, race, cultural diversity and trauma.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the teaching team continue to liaise with experts such as the CQU Safer Communities and the Indigenous Engagement Division to foster safe and inclusive environments.

Feedback

The online delivery method supported engagement and the lecture recordings supported further learning.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the unit continues to be offered in an online format and recordings made available to students.
