General Information

Overview

In this unit you will engage in the scholarship of learning and teaching in relation to your own teaching practice. You will be provided with opportunities for immersion in professional practice during a mentored practicum in the Vocational Education and Training (VET) sector that involves a cycle of mentoring and feedback to develop and improve teaching practices. You will take a scholarly approach to inform planning and teaching, as well as critical reflection and evaluation of your teaching practices. The unit requires you to link your teaching practice to the relevant curriculum framework and the need to understand your student cohort. In addition, the unit further develops your ability to work independently, be positively self-critical, actively reflect on current teaching practice in a scholarly manner, and encourages a constructivist approach to problem-solving skills.

Assessment Type

Portfolio

Task Description

Assessment Task 1 - Formative and Summative tasks

Formative - identifying your action research focus

The purpose of the formative task is to enable you to begin your planning for your action research focus, to identify the research question that you are interested in exploring and to receive some feedback early in the unit (due by the end of week 3 at the latest).

The steps for this task include the following:

1. Analyse a relevant case study on the Moodle site (e.g., areas of student diversity, teaching for engagement, assessment for learning)
2. Identify a particular class/cohort/unit you will be teaching in this term that will become the focus for your review of your teaching and learning practices
3. Identify an action research focus area (e.g., student diversity, teaching for engagement, assessment for learning, or something you negotiate with your mentor/lecturer)
4. Develop a research question that will guide your investigation into your practice
5. Identify a list of key readings that will help you answer this question

This work will be emailed to the lecturer and unit coordinator by the end of week 3 (at the latest).

This task refers to: Action Research Cycle Stages: 1. identify an action research need in your practice; 2. clarify existing theories; 3. identify a research question

Summative - collecting data in an e-Portfolio

You will collect relevant planning, feedback and reflection artefacts from across the term and present them in an e-Portfolio.

Your e-portfolio will include the following:

- annotated lesson plans (for approximately 5-7 lessons);
- feedback reports from your mentor;
- observations of mentor teachers' (or alternative) classes;
- mentor's observations of your teaching;
- 2 reflections (one from mid-way through the process; one at the end)
- Interim report (tick-sheet completed by mentor)
- Record of teaching/planning hours

This task refers to: Action Research Cycle Stages: 4. define action steps; 5. collect and analyse data; 6. interpret the results and make decisions about changes

2. A statement of your research focus and question and the reasons why this is the focus. What did you find out from the literature about this area? (approx 400-500 words)
3. A statement of the methods you used to collect data (items from your e-Portfolio) and how these methods contributed to your investigation. (approx 250-350 words)
4. What are the research findings? This will be the main focus of your report - you will reflect upon your practice through looking at your data. (approx 500-700 words)
5. Was the research question answered? What are the implications for your future practice? (approx 200-400 words)

This task refers to: Action research cycle stages: 7. reporting results; 8. returning to the research question and identifying future action

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
