

PBHL20008 Engaging with Cross-cultural Communities

Term 1 - 2020

Profile information current as at 30/04/2024 06:07 am

All details in this unit profile for PBHL20008 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

Volunteering in cross-cultural communities is an experience many adults seek out to broaden their personal and professional perspectives. In this unit you will develop the skills and knowledge required to undertake a volunteer experience in a cross-cultural context. These experiences include being able to initiate and maintain cross-cultural relationships and to reflect deeply on your own actions, assumptions and worldviews that influence these relationships. You will explore the benefits and challenges of volunteering in cross-cultural communities and organisations and develop skills in the co-generation of knowledge through working closely with others. This unit requires you to undertake a minimum of 25 hours volunteering with a community organisation that will provide you with an opportunity to work with people from a cultural context different to your own.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student evaluation

Feedback

Some students had difficulty finding a volunteer placement and suggested the university could assist with this.

Recommendation

The university will provide some administrative assistance will be available to support student placements. Students will be provided with additional support material and encouraged to find a placement earlier in the term.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Initiate and maintain effective cross-cultural relationships within the community
2. Evaluate the benefits and challenges of volunteering in cross-cultural communities
3. Evaluate the benefits and challenges of co-generation of knowledge within a cross-cultural context
4. Critically reflect on own experiences of volunteering in cross-cultural communities.

Assessment Tasks

1 Group Presentation

Assessment Type

Group Work

Task Description

The first assessment task is a GROUP assignment that will involve a presentation. Based on the experiences of its members in getting ready for the volunteering experience, each group will present a practical guide to some aspect of preparing for this placement. The presentation should center on both practical and academic/technical aspects of preparation. Each group will be assigned one of the following topics: 1) finding a suitable volunteer position; 2) making contact with placement organizations; 3) improving one's knowledge-base in preparation for placement; 4) understanding the organizational context; becoming a public health professional; 5) personal and professional responsibility in working in public health; or 6) the role of reflective practice in working in public health. The aim of the presentation is to offer practical guidance based on both literature and experience that might help other public health students in preparing for their volunteer experience and should reflect an integration of theory and practice that demonstrates familiarity with the requirements of professional placement as well as the group's experience. Student must achieve 45% in this assessment to pass the unit.

Assessment Due Date

Week 4 Friday (3 Apr 2020) 11:45 pm AEST

Presentations will be evaluated in class

Return Date to Students

Week 6 Friday (24 Apr 2020)

Feedback will be provided individually to students based on the assessment criteria for the task

Weighting

40%

Assessment Criteria

The presentation will be assessed on the following criteria:

The topic and its significance in the volunteer process is described and discussed in terms of significance: 15%

Practical guidance as well as reference to relevant literature is made: 15%

Integration of theory and practice is shown and discussed: 20%

The individual component of the presentation shows understanding, reference to literature, and practical use: 20%

Language of the presentation (oral and written) is clear and easily understood: 10%

All work is original, all information from sources is properly referenced and any direct quotations are properly identified: 20%

Submission Instructions

Each group will be required to submit its powerpoint slides to the tutor following the presentation.

Learning Outcomes Assessed

- Evaluate the benefits and challenges of volunteering in cross-cultural communities
- Evaluate the benefits and challenges of co-generation of knowledge within a cross-cultural context

Graduate Attributes

- Knowledge
- Communication
- Self-management
- Ethical and Professional Responsibility

2 Case Study of an Australian Community

Assessment Type

Case Study

Task Description

The second assessment task for this unit is a case study. This is an INDIVIDUAL assignment (2000 words). Each student will choose one of the groups listed below and develop a case study that describes and analyzes the distinct communicative and cultural needs that would be relevant in developing a public health initiative or program to address a health need recognized in the community. The case study must include the following sections: overview of the status of the chosen community in Australia; review of the health status of the community with a focus on inequities that need to be addressed; description and analysis of communication and cultural factors relevant to the community; and discussion of how these communicative and cultural needs could be addressed in the context of a public health program. The case study must make reference to appropriate scholarly literature.

Students must choose one of the following groups:

1. The Australian Indigenous community living in rural and remote areas;
2. The Afghan refugee community living in urban areas;
3. The Chinese-speaking community living in urban areas;
4. Older adults of Greek or Italian origin (students must choose either the Greek or Italian community);
5. Arabic-speaking women;
6. School-aged children from low SES households in Australia;
7. The LGBTI community in urban and rural Australia;

8. Adult men in urban and rural Australia.

Appropriate writing style is essential for this assignment. The case study must be written in formal academic language with complete referencing and must demonstrate culturally sensitive phrasing and word use that reflects the professional environment and conventions of the field.

Students must achieve 45% in this assessment to pass the unit.

Assessment Due Date

Week 8 Friday (8 May 2020) 11:45 pm AEST

Students must submit the assignment through Moodle.

Return Date to Students

Week 10 Friday (22 May 2020)

Feedback files will be uploaded to Moodle.

Weighting

30%

Assessment Criteria

The case study will be assessed on the following criteria:

Use of a range of appropriate literature not older than five years: 20%

The nature of the community, its health status relative to the population as a whole, and any inequities experienced by its members are described and discussed in detail: 20%

A discussion and analysis of the communicative and cultural needs of the community is provided: 20%

The ways in which initiatives to address the identified health inequities could be informed by an understanding of the group's communicative and cultural needs and discussed in detail: 20%

All work is the student's own, all information is properly referenced, and any direct quotations are identified as such according to academic convention: 20%

- Communication
- Self-management
- Ethical and Professional Responsibility

3 Reflective Essay

Assessment Type

Reflective Practice Assignment

Task Description

The third assessment task for this unit is a reflective essay. This is an INDIVIDUAL assignment (1000 words). Each student will write a reflective essay based on his or her volunteer experience. The essay should focus on the learning achieved as part of the placement and make reference to the literature on the role of such placements in professional training in public health. The essay must contain the following elements: a description of the volunteer context and setting; a description of the student's role in the placement; an assessment of learning that took place with emphasis on things learned and new awareness of gaps in the student's knowledge and understanding; and the way in which this experience will affect the student's preparation and planning for subsequent placements.

This is a reflective assignment, so a more informal writing style is acceptable. However, the reflection must not be wholly descriptive. It must contain an assessment of the way in which the student's views or thinking has changed and what he or she has learned about himself as a practitioner.

Students must achieve 45% in this assessment to pass the unit.

Assessment Due Date

Week 12 Friday (5 June 2020) 11:45 pm AEST
Students must submit the assignment through Moodle.

Return Date to Students

Exam Week Monday (15 June 2020)
Feedback files will be uploaded to Moodle.

Weighting

30%

Assessment Criteria

The reflective essay will be marked on the following criteria:
The essay shows evidence of understanding of relevant literature and the purpose of the placement as part of becoming a practitioner in public health: 20%
The placement context is described and discussed, including the student's tasks and activities: 20%
Personal learning and change is recorded and discussed: 20%
The impact of the experience on the student's future plans and activities is documented and shows evidence of reflection: 20%
All work is the student's own, all information is properly referenced, and any direct quotations are identified as such according to academic convention: 20%

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
