General Information

Overview

This unit will allow you to develop an understanding of the processes and theoretical underpinnings required to integrate evidence-based practice with clinical expertise to improve patient care. In addition, you will be able to formulate a clinical question, assimilate the basic principles and skills required to undertake literature searches of evidence-based resources, and interpret data and research findings relevant to the prehospital environment to inform practice.

Offerings For Term 1 - 2027

- Online

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator reflections

Feedback

Recent developments in Advanced Practice in Paramedicine and possible endorsement by the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) could impact this unit in the near future, as this unit sits in the Master of Paramedic Science (Primary Healthcare Practice).

Recommendation

It is recommended that we continue to engage with the Paramedicine Board of Australia and implement the necessary changes to the unit and the course as required when this information becomes available.
