General Information

Overview

This unit will encompass a theoretical component, a practical component and a clinical component. The theoretical and practical components will concentrate on the prescription and construction of foot orthoses, where you will produce a range of orthotic devices. The clinical component will focus on further developing your ability to take a holistic approach to assess, diagnose and manage a range of patients, with more of a focus on skin and nail pathologies. You will present clinical cases, explaining the underlying pathophysiology and show your clinical reasoning with respect to assessment, diagnosis and management. As a matter of continuous development, you will be expected to progress your professional podiatric clinical skills.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Evaluation - Have Your Say

Feedback

Learning resources such as video recording was uploaded on to Moodle for students to learn skills such as orthotic/plaster casting. Students acknowledged that this was useful and they were more confident in performing the task after watching the video.

Recommendation

The use of video recording for particular practical skills is recommended to be continued to be used in this unit.

Feedback from Unit Coordinator/ lecturer reflection

Feedback

Students were required to video record themselves while conducting their practical skills (e.g. obtaining a positive mould of the foot using a foam impression). This was valuable for students to perform reflective practice by watching themselves and critiquing their own skills.

Recommendation

Self reflection and peer review provide holistic feedback to students regarding their own performance and progress. It is recommended that this task be continued in this unit to assist student to engage in reflective practice.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Demonstrate competency at a foundational standard of practice in clinical reasoning, execution of techniques and objective assessments, and delivery of programs to manage specific clinical problems
2. Develop and implement an appropriate patient-centred management plan based on assessment and analysis of presenting complaints
3. Develop skills in taking and evaluating different types of casts of the foot
4. Develop skills in orthotic prescription writing
5. Manufacture and appraise simple, accommodative, and functional orthotic devices.

Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
