

PSYC11010 Fundamentals of Psychology

Term 2 - 2021

Profile information current as at 01/07/2022 02:57 pm

All details in this unit profile for PSYC11010 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit introduces you to the fundamental principles of human behaviour and their application to everyday life and work. Accordingly, topics will range from an overview and history of psychology to areas such as applying psychology to health and social environments. Please note, for students intending to complete a psychology major (CC43 or CF59), this unit cannot be used as a substitute for any part of the core APAC accredited sequence. However, it can be used as one of your non-psychology elective units.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

- Grades and Results Policy

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student evaluations

Feedback

Students appreciated the weekly activities that helped keep them engaged with the unit and consolidate their learning.

Recommendation

Continue to provide weekly activities, such as the Stop and Review questions (Assessment 1), and the fill in the blank questions that correspond to the required reading, on the unit Moodle website.

Feedback

Students suggested including more specific detail within the marking rubric for the concept map (Assessment 2).

Recommendation

Revise the marking rubric for the concept map (Assessment 2), to include more specific detail of what is expected for each marking component.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Identify major principles and theories of the fundamentals of psychology
2. Apply major principles and theories of the fundamentals of psychology to human behaviour
3. Communicate an understanding of psychological concepts in an objective manner.

Assessment Tasks

1 Stop and Review questions

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Objectives

The 'Stop and Review' questions will provide you with the opportunity to demonstrate ongoing engagement with the unit, and foundational knowledge as well as critical knowledge, of the weekly topic. Participation will further demonstrate your ability to communicate an understanding of psychological concepts in an objective manner.

Question

From week 2 through to week 11 a set of four questions (based on the material studied during that week) will be posted in the weekly topic section on the unit Moodle site. Your online responses should be approximately 50 words each (maximum 100 words). Each response will be worth 1 mark with a maximum of 20 marks for the overall assessment. Submission of answers to at least eight questions is a compulsory element of this assessment, failure to do so will result in a mark of '0' being given for Assessment 1.

Each set of questions will be available for one week only. At the end of that time, the questions will be closed, i.e., although posts will still be able to be viewed for study purposes, submissions after the closing date will not be marked.

Assessment Due Date

Continual assessment - Questions will be made available Monday 9:00 am and need to be answered by 9:00 am on the following Monday.

Return Date to Students

Grading will be completed within the two week period after each set of weekly questions is closed.

Weighting

20%

Minimum mark or grade

Submission of answers to at least eight questions is a compulsory element of this assessment, failure to do so will result in a mark of '0' being given for Assessment 1.

Assessment Criteria

You will receive one mark per correct answer. The maximum mark for this assessment is 20 marks.

Submission of answers to at least eight questions is a compulsory element of this assessment, failure to do so will result in a mark of '0' being given for Assessment 1.

2 Concept map

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Objective

This assessment is designed to strengthen your understanding of the concepts and themes explored in this unit by getting you to think about these in relation to other concepts learnt in this unit and applying some of these to 'real-world'/practical examples. This assignment also encourages you to think about how different concepts from different lectures are related, and how some of these can be applied outside of the unit.

Question

A concept map includes core concepts, usually enclosed in circles or boxes (nodes), with relationships illustrated by directional lines connecting the nodes AND linking words or statements that explain the nature of the relationship between nodes. You will develop a concept map that demonstrates an understanding of the key unit concepts and are linked to three overarching themes.

In order to achieve the requirements for the concept map you will need to:

- Select a lecture topic covered during the first six weeks of this unit to use as the basis of the first theme in the concept map. The date and title of the lecture you select should appear on the Concept Map Assignment Detail Form (available on the unit Moodle website) and MUST be submitted with your concept map.
- Your concept map MUST contain a minimum of TWENTY-SIX (26) identified concepts including the following elements:
 - Ten (10) core concepts from your selected lecture in this unit (Theme 1).
 - Eight (8) additional concepts from at least one other lecture in this unit (Theme 2).
 - Eight (8) additional concepts that connect the selected concept/s to 'real-world'/practical applications (Theme 3).
- You are required to use some sort of system (colours/geometric shapes) to make each theme distinguishable. You can add extra concepts and themes should you so wish. However, you must have no more than 50 concepts in total included in your map.

Concept mapping software is available to download from the web. Some websites allow you a free trial and others will let you access the software for free. The Institute for Human and Machine Cognition (IHMC) provides free concept mapping software for both PC and Mac: <https://cmap.ihmc.us/cmaptools/cmaptools-download/> (Checked 15/06/21). Further information is available on the unit Moodle website. We will be covering concept maps in detail during the unit, so do not worry too much if it is the kind of task you have never done before.

3 Online Test - Fill In The Blanks

Assessment Type

Online Test

Task DescriptionObjective

This assessment is designed to allow you to display your factual, conceptual, and integrative knowledge retained during the period of study in this unit.

Details

The online test will consist of 80 fill-in-the-blanks questions covering content from Weeks 7-11. The questions for the test are derived from the lecture notes and weekly readings. The test will be completed online via the unit Moodle website. Once you start the test, you have 100 minutes to complete all 80 questions. At the end of the 100 minutes, the quiz will close and the system will submit all answered questions for grading.

The online test opens on Wednesday the 13th of October at 9:00 am and closes on Friday the 15th of October at 11:45 pm.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
