General Information

Overview

This unit focuses on cognitive psychology, which is the study of how the mind works. At the end of the unit, you will have a broad understanding of how people attend to and perceive items in our world, how we remember short term and long term information, how we use language and how we make decisions. You will be able to communicate your perspective on the key debates and controversies in cognitive psychology based on your examination of historical and cutting-edge research. You will explore some of the key research findings in the area through planning, executing and writing up a research study.

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Feedback

Feedback

I liked the structure of the short lectures and videos. I also liked that the lectures were presented from a current research perspective, rather than just the structure of the textbook

Recommendation

Retain the current research focus and the short lecture format.

Feedback

Some issues with having the right software to get the interactive studies to play. Not sure how this could be resolved

Recommendation

Consider replacing the interactive exercises with a different assignment.

Feedback

The assessment was an amazing experience and I feel much better prepared to engage in research in fourth year as a result of this experience.

Recommendation

Retain the emphasis on practical research skills in the assessment.

Assessment Tasks

1 Research Report

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

The primary aim of this assessment item is to enable you to design, conduct and communicate a research project in psychology. You will be provided with a research activity that describes a basic experiment in cognitive psychology. Your task is to extend this basic study, collect data from at least 16 friends and family (who are over 18), appropriately analyze the data and write up your findings in an academic journal style report. Please note, if you have previously attempted a research activity you must do a different one this time around.

Assessment Due Date

Week 7 Monday (29 Apr 2019) 9:00 am AEST

Return Date to Students

Assignments submitted by the deadline will be returned on 20th May, assignments submitted up to 1 week late will be returned on 27th May, assignments submitted up to 2 weeks late will be returned on 3rd June.

Weighting

50%

Minimum mark or grade

50%

Assessment Criteria

You should write a journal style report, between 2000 (minimum) and 2500 (maximum) words, excluding references and appendices, but including in-text citations and figure labels etc. In other words, everything from the beginning of the title to the end of the discussion is included in the word count. Your assignment should be double spaced and should mirror the form of an academic journal article. Your report should have the following sections: title, abstract, introduction, method, results, discussion and references, and your report should follow all aspects of the APA publication style. What am I looking for? The following illustrates the marking criteria that will be used to assess this assignment...

Title: 2 marks

Concise yet meaningful.

Abstract: 8 marks

Around 200 words.

Clearly and concisely written with flowing text.

Contains key information: brief background, the problem you're investigating, participant details, essential features of the method, what you found and what your findings mean.

Introduction: 20 marks

Not more than 1/3 of the word count.

No repetition or redundancy in expression.

Clear, flowing and concise writing, building up from general ideas towards specific hypotheses.

Integration of ideas from different studies, not a series of linked 'abstracts'.

Citations always used to support statements or descriptions of previous studies.

Hypotheses and rationale: 5 marks

Hypotheses emerge logically from the preceding sections of the introduction.

No heading or sub-heading or bullet point, or other separation from the body of the introduction, just a short and concise sentence or couple of sentences embedded in the final paragraph of the introduction.

Clearly, accurately and simply stated.

Method: 15 marks

Clear and detailed enough so that someone else can easily replicate your study.

Divided into sub-sections (see the APA guide for more information). Subsections should include at least: Participants, Design, Materials and Procedure.

Well conceived method that can examine the hypothesis.

Results: 15 marks

Presents an analysis that appropriately tests the hypotheses.

Statistics used are appropriate and correctly carried out.

Discussion: 30 marks

Begins with recap of results (no numbers necessary).

Reports how results relate to hypotheses (supportive or not).

Considers findings in relation to previous literature on the topic.

Includes citations when reporting other studies.

Reports any unexpected findings and suggests explanations.

Discusses limitations of the study, including any possible confounds and how these might be overcome.

Makes recommendations about further research on the topic.

Clear, flowing and concise writing.

Referencing: 5 marks

Includes full references in APA format for all references presented in the paper.

General

Throughout all these sections, the following criteria will be assessed: grammar, spelling, punctuation, APA format, coherence of arguments, justification of arguments, use of literature, critical analysis, written style, structure of report and length of report.

N.B. In line with the Psychology Program Student Assessment and Referencing Guidelines and Procedures, an assignment which fails to adhere to the word count (i.e. exceeds 2500 or is less than 2000), will be subject to

-a word count penalty of 10% of the total possible grade, i.e. 10 marks.

-an assignment that is submitted late will attract a 5% penalty per day

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
