General Information

Overview

In this unit you will examine the relationships between cultural contexts and human behaviour. You will gain understanding of the similarities and differences in behaviour as influenced by various cultures, particularly perspectives of First Nations Peoples. You will learn about key cross-cultural theories, common research methods used in cross-cultural psychology and examine how these are relevant in research and applied settings. In this unit you will learn how to apply your psychological knowledge and skills in a manner that is culturally appropriate and sensitive to the diversity of others.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Unit Evaluation

Feedback

Clearer marking rubric including examples of successful assignments.

Recommendation

Simplify marking rubrics by including clearer criteria and excluding any requirements that are not taught in the unit (e.g., philosophical stances).

Feedback from Student Unit Evaluation and In Class Feedback

Change the time of assessment due dates to allow students to include feedback from prior assessments into the next.

Recommendation

Review assessment dates so that feedback provided can be implemented by students in their subsequent assessment pieces.

Change the Unit's delivery format.

Recommendation

Replace the weekly 3-hour live sessions with pre-recorded lectures and provide weekly Zoom tutorials.
