

PSYC14050 Ethics & Professional Issues in Psychology

Term 2 - 2019

Profile information current as at 30/04/2024 01:35 pm

All details in this unit profile for PSYC14050 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit will provide you with comprehensive training in Research Ethics and the Ethics of Professional Practice. This unit will develop and assess your ability to apply ethics concepts in real life situations and scenarios, with emphasis placed on the provision of evidence based reasoning and justifications. As an advanced level unit there is a high level of expectation regarding independent study and self-directed learning. You are expected to be an active participant in the learning process, to independently research and read widely and to reflect upon multiple perspectives and opinions about best ethics practice in psychology - both in research and in professional practice. The unit is split into two six-week modules. Module 1 - Research Ethics will provide you with an understanding of the necessity for, and the processes which underpin research ethics within the Psychology discipline. This module has a focus on and will acquaint you with, the human research ethics procedures set by the Australian National Health and Medical Research Council. Module 2 - Professional Practice aims to equip you with the knowledge necessary for practicing as a psychologist in a professional manner. The focus of this module is on the identification of ethical issues in practice, and the development of professional decision making skills. This module will acquaint you with the Code of Ethics and the Ethical Guidelines set by the Australian Psychological Society.

Offerings For Term 2 - 2019

- Mixed Mode

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Residential Schools

This unit has a Compulsory Residential School for distance mode students and the details are:

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

You may wish to view these policies:

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Evaluation

Feedback

Residential School was very beneficial - both for meeting fellow students and lecturers, but also the group presentation assessment was a great way to start understanding research ethics.

Recommendation

Residential School will continue to be offered and will be in the same format (including group presentation assessments).

Feedback from Student Evaluation

Feedback

Clarity needed as to which marking rubric should be used and what was required from the assessments.

Recommendation

Marking rubrics and other assessment information will not be altered once the Moodle site is made available to students.

Feedback from Student Evaluation

Feedback

Assignments needed to be returned on time.

Recommendation

All staff will be reminded that return of student work by the dates specified in the Unit Profile is essential. The Head of Course will continually check on marking progress and will take steps to address any issues before they have an impact on assessment return.

Feedback from Student Evaluation, emails.

Feedback

Teaching staff were supportive and approachable.

Recommendation

Continue to foster an open dialogue between students and staff.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Identify and apply the ethical requirements of psychological research in an Australian context, particularly as they relate to the National Health and Medical Research Council Guidelines for the Ethical Conduct of Human Research.
2. Critically evaluate research from an ethics perspective and propose changes to a research approach and/or design to address the ethical issues identified.
3. Apply and evaluate ethical decision making strategies across multiple professional contexts, particularly as they relate to applications of the Code of Ethics and the Ethical Guidelines of the Australian Psychological Society.

Assessment Tasks

1 Group work presentation (Research Ethics)

Assessment Type

Group Work

Task Description

Groups will be assigned prior to the start of term.

Your goal is to conduct an ethical critique of a research ethics application, and develop a presentation based on the aspects you consider need addressing by the researcher. Your critique should focus on requirements according to the NHMRC National Statement on Ethical Conduct in Human Research, with a particular focus on Sections 1 and 2, and Section 4 where required.

Focus on issues such as the clarity of the research question, identification of risk and participant confidentiality.

Provide some solutions to the problems identified – what would need to be changed to ensure the project meets the required ethical standards?

Use the following approach: Identify and explain the problem (with reference to the NHMRC guidelines and other appropriate empirical sources)

What alternatives are there to the proposed approach and how might these lead to better ethical conduct of this specific research project (again with reference to both the NHRMC guidelines and the provision of other empirical evidence to justify your assertions and propositions)

Your group should develop a PowerPoint presentation that explains and addresses at least three (3) of the issues your group identifies.

Each group will present their critique and solutions at the Residential School, and each group member should participate fully in the development of the presentation as well as being present at the presentation itself.

It is expected that your PowerPoint slides will provide an outline and summary of the content of your presentation.

However, you are not restricted to the use of PowerPoint alone (although remember that this is what you are submitting). Props, singing, dancing, audience involvement, photo stories etc can all be used – feel free to be creative – but ensure you get your point across.

Your presentation and PowerPoint slides should include the following: A very brief overview/introduction to the proposed research task

Clear identification of at least three (3) ethical issues present in the project proposed

Clear justifications for the alternative approaches and solution proposed to address each of the identified issue.

Assessment Due Date

Week 3 Wednesday (31 July 2019) 1:00 pm AEST

Give the presentation at Residential School. Email Powerpoints to the Unit Coordinator prior to 1pm AEST on Wednesday the 27th of March.

Return Date to Students

Week 5 Friday (16 Aug 2019)

Feedback and a mark will be emailed to each student individually. Overall group feedback will be posted on the Moodle Forum for each group.

Weighting

15%

Assessment Criteria

Assessment will be based on:

A very brief overview/introduction to the proposed research task.

Clear identification of at least three (3) ethical issues present in the project proposed.

Clear justifications for the alternative approaches and solution proposed to address each of the identified issue.

Presenting style and group cohesion will also be assessed.

Download Written Assessment Task 1 PDF from Moodle site for more details and the grading matrix.

2 Professional Ethics Practical assessment: Applying the Ethical Decision Making (EDM) model

Assessment Type

Practical Assessment

Task Description

Evaluate material provided which illustrates a professional ethical dilemma that may be faced by a practicing psychologist.

Prepare a critique which includes:

A brief description of the ethical dilemma.

Identification of the factors involved in the dilemma.

Identifying potential courses of action.

Selecting and justifying the chosen course of action from those presented.

Use of the Australian Psychology Society (APS) ethical decision making (EDM) model as a guide to resolve the dilemma.

Assessment Due Date

Week 4 Monday (5 Aug 2019) 11:55 pm AEST

carry this task out on-line

Return Date to Students

Week 6 Friday (30 Aug 2019)

Marks and feedback will be posted on Moodle

Weighting

Assessment Criteria

This will be a time-limited and on-line assessment where you will work through the Australian Psychology Society (APS) ethical decision making model (EDM) (discussed and practiced during the Residential School) in response to a professional ethical dilemma.

Assessment criteria will be based on a critique which includes:

A brief description of the ethical dilemma.

Identification of the factors involved in the dilemma.

Identifying potential courses of action.

Selecting and justifying the chosen course of action from those presented.

Use of the Australian Psychology Society (APS) Ethical Decision Making (EDM) model as a guide to resolve the dilemma.

3 Written critique of the Research Ethics application

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

In a logical, well-integrated essay (using APA style referencing and headings) identify (with well-reasoned justification) the major issues of ethical concern in relation to the application assigned to your group, and how these might be rectified. The issue/s you identify should be consistent with the approach taken in your group presentation. Your individual submission can focus on only one point, and can also address points in addition to your group presentation. It is expected however that there will be a degree of overlap between the group submission and your individual submission. It is important to note here that you are expected to apply ethical concepts within the context of the ethics application assigned to your group and not write an essay about a particular ethical concept/s more generally.

Using the same approach as Task 1 and the group work presentation, your essay must:

Clearly identify each ethical issue and explain why it is of ethical concern (with appropriate empirical justification provided).

Clearly outline, and provide justifications for any alternatives to the proposed approach and how these might lead to better ethical conduct of this specific research project (again with reference to both the NHRMC guidelines and the provision of other empirical evidence to justify your assertions and propositions)

Be formatted according to APA Style Requirements

Have a separate initial paragraph which summarises the proposed research study (which is not marked and not counted in word count)

Have a correctly formatted reference list

Be between 1250 and 1500 words (count does NOT include title page, initial summary paragraph or reference lists. Word count DOES include in-text citations). Submissions in excess of the 1500 word maximum will be penalised 10% of the total possible grade and assessment will only occur on the text of the assignment up to the 1500 words.

Follow a similar approach to your group presentation and ensure that each of the following aspects are addressed for each issue you identify:

Problem identification (i.e. what is the issue?)

Articulation of WHY that particular aspect is a problem (with reference to empirical sources)

Proposal of an appropriate solution

Clear justification (with reference to empirical sources) of WHY the proposed solution is appropriate

Clear justification (with reference to empirical sources) of WHY and HOW the proposed solution will solve the problem identified.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
