General Information

Overview

Psychology Research Project B is the second of two units designed to introduce you to the process of undertaking research in the Psychology discipline. Over the two units, you will independently undertake a scholarly investigation, under the supervision of a qualified supervisor within the Psychology discipline. The purpose of the Research Project B unit is to provide you the opportunity to conduct the project proposed in Psychology Research Project A (PSYC14051). Throughout this unit you will conduct the investigation proposed in Term 1 and develop an independent scholarly report based on this investigation. Your final thesis submission will comprise an empirical journal style paper report based on the findings of your specific research project. Successful completion of this unit requires that Psychology Research Project A and Psychology Research Project B are undertaken in two consecutive University terms (e.g. Term 1 and Term 2, or Term 2 and Term 3).

Weighting: 100%

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Design and execute a research project incorporating the key research steps, including the formulation of research question/s, the analysis of data to test the research question/s, and the interpretation of the findings
2. Prepare a research project report that includes research question/s, empirical literature review, data analysis, reporting of results and discussion.

The purpose of the two-term long Psychology Research Project (A & B) is to provide you with training in developing, conducting, and communicating research across theoretical and applied domains. This requires you to undertake an investigation of a research question in psychology and to report the investigation in written scholarly form. The research question will be of theoretical or applied significance to an area of psychology and the investigation and subsequent dissertation will be carried out under the principal supervision of a member of the psychology staff.

The thesis is an individual research project where the expectation is that you, with advice from your supervisor(s), will be responsible for, and participate in, all steps of the investigation and reporting.

Successful completion of this unit requires that Psychology Research Project A and Psychology Research Project B are undertaken in two consecutive University terms (e.g. Term 1 and Term 2, or Term 2 and Term 3).

Learning outcomes fulfill the level 2 pre-professional core competencies required by the updated Australian Psychology Accreditation Council (APAC) guidelines, specifically 2.5: Investigate a substantive individual research question relevant to the discipline of psychology. The unit also meets the study criteria as specified by the Psychology Board of Australia (PsyBA) as appropriate for study at level 8 as stated by the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Assessment Tasks

1 Thesis

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Thesis submission includes:

1. Thesis in pdf format

2. Appendices (if any) in pdf format (but it's ok if it's in same file as thesis)

You are expected to submit your thesis in an Empirical Report format. A thesis submitted in this format is required to contain a report in the form of a journal style empirical paper. This likely will be a more detailed (and refined) version of what you began in your proposal, although you are not constrained by anything written in your proposal. So there is a level of 're-write and paraphrasing' of your own work throughout the year.

Total word count of the submitted thesis should be between 6,000 and 10,000 words. The word count includes all headings, tables and figures, and in-text citations.

Because a word count range is stipulated, there is no 10% above/below the word count rule. Non-adherence to the word count will result in a 10% word count penalty being applied. The word count excludes all pre-pages (i.e. Title Pages, Acknowledgements) as well as the Abstract, References and Appendices.

A reference list must be provided at the conclusion of the report.

Page numbering should begin from the title page of your thesis. Page numbering for the reference lists and for the appendices should follow from the text.

The reference list and the appendices should start on a new page.

You need to include adequate details within the Methods or Results section to demonstrate that you have carried out data screening and assumption testing.

All thesis submissions should be word-processed in double-spaced 12 point Times New Roman, with 2.5cm margins.

The thesis will be required to be submitted electronically in pdf format.

The thesis should follow the style guidelines set out in the Publication Manual (7th edition) of the American Psychological Association.

Any tables, figures, and other illustrations outside of the Appendices should be of photo-ready standard and should be inserted in an appropriate place in the text - generally, tables and figures should be introduced and described before they appear.

Tables and figures should be appropriately titled and labelled according to APA Style and normally be designed so that they fit on a single A4 page.

Appendices presenting the output from data analysis programs do not need to be in APA format (i.e. this can be copied and pasted from the output into the Appendices).

Late submissions will attract a 5% penalty per day late applied to the final thesis grade.

Assessment Due Date

Exam Week Monday (13 Feb 2023) 9:00 am AEST

Return Date to Students

Results will be released once marking and moderation of all on-time thesis submissions have been completed (usually about 4 weeks following the due date).

Weighting

100%

Assessment Criteria

Each honours thesis is examined by two examiners (one internal and one external examiner). The Unit Coordinators and/or the Head of Course will appoint two appropriately qualified individuals to examine the thesis. In accordance with APAC guidelines and University and School policies, the student's Supervisors may not act as an examiner of the thesis. The completed thesis is the only graded assessment task for Psychology Research Project A and B and is graded according to the University's system of grading as set out below:

High Distinction 85 -100 %

Distinction 75 - 84 %

Credit 65 - 74 %

Pass 50 - 64 %

Fail 0 - 49 %

Examiners will provide both a letter grade and a percentage mark using the University system of grading. When the examination procedure is completed, copies of the examiners' reports will be emailed to the student and primary supervisor. These should be received within 2-4 days of thesis grades being released. An electronic copy of the thesis will be retained by the School.

As with any examination/assessment process where there is more than one marker appointed, moderation of marking by the thesis coordinator will occur to determine the final grade. If the examiners' proposed grades are 10 or more points apart, the thesis coordinators will appoint a third examiner and the grade will be the average of the two closest examiner scores. When finalised, student grades will be released on the Unit's Moodle site.

Students will connect with their supervisors to discuss feedback and the overall examination of their thesis. Should there be concerns, complaints and appeals as a results of this process, students are encouraged to review University Policies to guide them.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
