General Information

Overview

The concept of wellbeing is central to Positive Psychology and it has been explored across many disciplines, cultures and spiritual traditions. In this unit, you will take a critical approach to cross-disciplinary, cross-cultural and spiritual theories and research on wellbeing. Through this exploration you will develop a holistic understanding of wellbeing concepts and practices. You will gain an understanding of how wellbeing is determined in different cultural and spiritual settings and across a range of academic disciplines and the implications for Positive Psychology.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from SUTE responses.

Feedback

Some students felt there was a large volume of weekly reading, and the content could use videos or other materials to help make it more digestible.

Recommendation

The teaching team will introduce short videos and alternative formats, such as interactive materials and concept maps, to complement key readings, making content more accessible and easier to digest.

Feedback from SUTE responses.

Feedback

Some students felt the unit's focus on specific cultures limited opportunities to explore a wider range of cultural perspectives and personal interests.

Recommendation

The Unit Coordinator will investigate strategies to broaden the scope of perspectives presented in the unit while maintaining its core themes and provide greater flexibility for students to connect content to their own contexts and career goals.

Feedback from SUTE responses.

Feedback

Some students raised concerns about the role of GenAI use in assessments and its impact on students' sense of ownership of their work.

Recommendation

The Unit Coordinator will investigate strategies for offering clearer guidance on the responsible use of GenAI in coursework and help students understand how to balance technology with independent learning and critical thinking.

Feedback from SUTE responses; discussion with Positive Psychology teaching team.

Feedback

Some students felt the assessments were large and complex.

Recommendation

The Unit Coordinator and teaching team will re-evaluate the appropriateness of the size and tasks required for assessments.
