

PSYC20042 Building Wellbeing and Resilience: Interconnected Factors

Term 1 - 2019

Profile information current as at 04/05/2024 03:20 am

All details in this unit profile for PSYC20042 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit, you will examine interconnected factors and complex systems that impact wellbeing and resilience at an individual and societal level. At the individual level, you will examine the interplay between mental processes, emotions, and physiology, and assess how to positively influence these areas. You will also evaluate the importance of factors such as sleep, nutrition and diet, exercise, social support, fun, play, and creativity. At a societal level, you will evaluate the impact on wellbeing and resilience of factors such as education, health systems, societal norms and values, and the impact of built and natural environments. Within this interconnected factors framework, you will draw on evidence-based research, tools, approaches, and models, to promote wellbeing and resilience interventions.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student feedback (evaluations).

Feedback

A number of students indicated that they were pleased with the assessment items, including how assessment items built on each other and feedback developed understanding on what could be improved on future items.

Recommendation

This format will continue for the unit.

Feedback from Student feedback (evaluations).

Feedback

A number of students indicated that they were pleased with the practical content in the unit.

Recommendation

The inclusion of practical, hands-on activities will continue in the unit.

Feedback from Student feedback (evaluations).

Feedback

Some students indicated that they would like more guidance on assessment requirements and expectations.

Recommendation

The course team will evaluate assessment materials to see where additional guidelines and resources can be provided.

Feedback from Student feedback (evaluations).

Feedback

One student indicated that they would like to see more multimedia (video) content in weekly materials.

Recommendation

The unit material will include more of this type of content.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Critically analyse wellbeing and resilience resources, including contemporary discipline research, programs and interventions
2. Evaluate and discuss the integration of psychological, physiological, and environmental health approaches
3. Design and produce a professional wellbeing and resilience educational resource
4. Apply reflective practice to chronicle your insights and awareness of interconnected wellbeing factors.

Additional Textbook Information

There are no prescribed textbooks for this unit. However, the overall Graduate Certificate in Positive Psychology and Graduate Diploma of Positive Psychology courses, and the first year of the Master of Applied Positive Psychology, will draw heavily upon these recommended texts as we move through each of the units.

The Hefferon and Boniwell textbook is an introductory text designed specifically for tertiary education, and is also available through the CQU Library as an e-book or in PDF format. This is a good starting point for those who have not previously studied or worked within the Positive Psychology area. The Lopez and Snyder text is a more advanced text, focused on research and applications within the positive psychology space.

Assessment Tasks

1 Curate wellbeing articles, videos, and websites into a curating platform

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

In Assessment 1, you are required to follow a series of steps that will provide the framework and content for the Assessment 2 task, which is to develop an online positive psychology, wellbeing, and resilience blog.

For Assessment 1, you will:

1. Choose at least 10 topics from a list of wellbeing topics (provided on the Moodle site)
2. Pertaining to the 10 chosen topics from the list, source, collate and examine a collection of quality, relevant websites, peer-reviewed research articles, research-oriented summary media articles, and videos
3. Analyse and evaluate a selection of the collected resources.

For at least five of the 10 topics chosen, resources should include a peer-reviewed journal article. However, all collected resources (e.g. websites, videos) should be underpinned by peer-reviewed research.

Topic area resources collected must have a primary focus on positive psychology and/or wellbeing and resilience. Where feasible, resources should be a mix of age-appropriateness (e.g. children, teenagers, adults, older adults). Your chosen resources should also cover psychological, physiological/physical, and environmental approaches to wellbeing/resilience. Each topic area must include at least one wellbeing intervention/practice.

Further task details will be available on the unit Moodle site.

Assessment Due Date

Vacation Week Monday (15 Apr 2019) 9:00 am AEST

Return Date to Students

Week 7 Monday (29 Apr 2019)

Feedback and grade for this assessment will be provided within 2 weeks of submission.

Assessment Criteria

You will be assessed on:

- Quality, appropriateness, and diversity of resources collected on positive psychology and wellbeing and resilience
- Integration of psychological, physiological, and environmental health approaches for each topic area
- Evaluation of resources and wellbeing interventions/wellbeing practices supported by empirical evidence.

Detailed information regarding assessment requirements and criteria for assessment can be found in the Unit and Assessment Guide on Moodle.

In order to pass the unit, you will need to score at least 50% in this assessment.

2 Positive Psychology, Wellbeing, and Resilience website blog

Assessment Type

Online resource/s

Task Description

In Assessment 2, you will build on the resources collected and examined for Assessment 1 to design and produce a Positive Psychology, Wellbeing, and Resilience website blog.

For Assessment 2, you will:

1. Choose five topic areas of interest from your Assessment 1 curated collection
2. Research and choose an appropriate web blog platform to use
3. Prepare a series of blog posts for the topics with evidence-based information (and references) pertaining to the area
4. Detail at least one suitable, evidence-based wellbeing intervention/practice area per topic area.

Further task details will be available on the unit Moodle site.

3 Reflective practice journal

Assessment Type

Reflective Practice Assignment

Task Description

In Assessment 3, you will use a reflective practice journal to chronicle your reflections and insights of interconnected wellbeing and resilience factors.

You will produce four reflective practice journal entries (300-500 words each) throughout the term documenting:

- reflections on unit content, and your growing understanding of the interconnections between physiological, psychological, and environmental wellbeing/resilience factors
- connections made between unit content and previous life experiences and observations
- evaluation of changes in prior perceptions and beliefs regarding wellbeing and resilience
- plans for future action using unit learning, or actual experimentation undertaken with unit concepts, in home and/or work life.

Further task details will be available on the unit Moodle site.

Assessment Due Date

Journal entries will be due in Week 4 Monday (1 Apr 2019) 9:00 am AEST; Week 6 Monday (22 Apr 2019) 9:00 am AEST; Week 8 Monday (6 May 2019) 9:00 am AEST; and Week 10 Monday (20 May 2019) 9:00 am AEST

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
