General Information

Overview

This unit is the first of two units which focus on mental disorders across the lifespan and case formulation. In this unit you will explore mental disorders most prevalent in childhood and adolescence. A problem-based learning approach will be used, providing you with the opportunity to engage in self-reflective practice and synthesise your knowledge and application of mental disorder classification, diagnosis, and case formulation. The study of mental disorders will involve exploration of genetic, biological, psychological, and social factors. The role of these factors will be considered in the development of mental disorders and possible intervention pathways. You will employ professional communication skills in a socially and culturally responsive manner to present your case formulations. This unit will include a three day residential in the first week of term which is compulsory for all students to attend.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Have Your Say - student feedback

Feedback

Retain student presentations and peer feedback overall, but consider reducing the amount of peer feedback each student is required to complete.

Recommendation

Consideration to be given to reducing peer feedback from three to two for each peer.

Feedback from Have Your Say - student feedback

Currently a lot of reading each week before class - could this be reduced to more specific readings.

Recommendation

Review of weekly readings to be undertaken to assist with student identification of those required prior to class and those students may find of interest.

Feedback from Have Your Say - student feedback and communication with Unit Coordinator

Feedback

Due to technology difficulties when COVID-19 restrictions first came into place students chose to stop watching peer presentations in class and watched recordings in their own time, suggest this format remains as students really enjoyed the additional time spent on case formulation skill development.

Recommendation

Continue with current format of students reviewing peer presentations outside of class time as this allows more time for in-class activities.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Demonstrate advanced knowledge of mental disorder diagnostic criteria relevant to mental health issues experienced during childhood and adolescence
2. Apply relevant theoretical frameworks to case formulation for mental health disorders experienced during childhood and adolescence
3. Employ professional communication skills in a socially and culturally responsive manner.

Learning outcomes are drawn from core competencies stated by the Psychology Board of Australia (PsychBA), program of study criteria as stated by the Australian Psychology Accreditation Council (APAC), and specifications for study at level 9 as indicated by the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF).

Assessment Type

Presentation

Task Description

You will be required to conduct one 10-15 minute presentation and develop two diagnostic handout.

Diagnostic Handout: (marked out of 25)

You will be required to develop two diagnostic handouts - one for your colleagues and another that would be helpful to provide to a young client or caregiver. Handouts are to be at least one A4 page, but no more than two. A list of references must be included (whilst in APA 7 format, the list does not need to be double line spacing or size 12 font). The aim of this task is to facilitate both your, and your fellow students, learning in conjunction with developing some practical and helpful resources for your professional practice.

Individual student topics will be randomly chosen by the Head of Course in Week 1 and provided to students. Topics will be chosen from the disorders covered in this unit this term.

Psychoeducation Presentation: (marked out of 15)

You will be required to deliver one psychoeducation presentation (10 to 15 min). You will use the knowledge gathered throughout the term to demonstrate how you would provide psychoeducation to a young client and/or caregiver regarding a particular disorder. You may use tools/resources already constructed to aid your presentation if you wish. You will record your presentation and students will be required to watch each other's presentations in their own time, and provide feedback for each other using a feedback form that we will develop together in Week 1. Individual student topics will be randomly chosen by the Head of Course in Week 1 and provided to students. Topics will be chosen from the disorders covered in this unit this term.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
