General Information

Overview
Evidence-based practice is an integral component of practicing as a psychologist, and aligns with the scientist-practitioner model. It is essential that you establish and evaluate your professional practice work based on scientific research. This unit will equip you with knowledge and skills related to the conduct of research evaluation in a professional practice context.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from In class and Student Unit Evaluation.

Feedback
Some students indicated that they would prefer an alternative assessment, to the current systematic or scoping review.

Recommendation
Consider changing the assessment to an evidence-based practice guide, drawing on current research and practice-based evidence.

Feedback from In class and Student Unit Evaluation.

Some students requested less readings and clearer guidance on using the available teaching materials.

Recommendation
Consider refining teaching materials to focus on more specific content while providing clearer guidance on how to navigate these resources.
