PSYC21007 Clinical Practice 1

Term 1 - 2026

Profile information current as at 05/12/2025 02:46 pm

All details in this unit profile for PSYC21007 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

Clinical Practice 1 is the first in a series of clinical practice units. This unit is designed to provide you with the practice skills required for clinical psychology training specified by the Australian Psychology Accreditation Council (APAC) and the Australian Health Practitioner Registration Agency (AHPRA) competencies necessary to practice as a psychologist in Australia. This training also prepares you to be eligible to apply to commence the Registrar Program post graduation, to gain an Area of Practice Endorsement in clinical psychology with the Psychology Board of Australia. By the completion of Clinical Practice 1, it is expected that you will demonstrate the AHPRA competencies with a small caseload of clients presenting for cognitive and learning assessments and for therapy with low risks.
