Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Dean, School of Graduate Research

Feedback

There has been ongoing discussion about refining the delivery of RSCH20001 to ensure candidates are well prepared for their Confirmation milestone. This has included trialling of supplementary content delivery by the library and English support teams under the 2021 'Action Learning Project' within Research Division.

Recommendation

Continued adaptation and trialing of unit delivery, to allow for flexible pathways for students and input of expertise from library, English writing and other support areas.

Feedback from Research Course Committee

Discussions at RCC have highlighted the importance of supervisor engagement during the unit. This AUER refers to the Term 1 delivery, however in Term 2 delivery, a modification has been implemented to the assessment to require students to engage with and reflect on supervisory input.

Recommendation

Continued clarification and focus on the respective roles of the Coursework teaching staff and RHD supervisors as a team effort to support student progress and skill development.

Feedback from Melissa Drake

Feedback

A number of students required English language writing support

Recommendation

Include group sessions for students requiring extra writing support with English language.

Feedback from Cheryl Bookalil (casual marker for the unit)

Feedback

Referencing and formatting

Recommendation

Include brief paragraph on choice of referencing style in assignments and inclusion of specific sessions focusing on referencing and literature searches.

Feedback from Library team

Feedback

The library offered support towards RSCH20001 by developing a new RHD Information research skills Moodle site. Scaffolded within the Research cycle, it is a self-paced resource aimed at point of need learning. This has gained good traction with students.

Recommendation

We would recommend that the promotion of the RHD Information research skills Moodle site and supporting Library RHD workshops, be integrated into the RSCH20001 student communications, so student awareness of library supporting resources can be bolstered.

Feedback from Informal supervisor feedback

Students are unprepared for depth and detail of work required in assignments. Timelines are very tight. Students who work full time can not meet deadlines within the 12 week course structure

Recommendation

Continue to negotiate individual transfers across sequential terms so enable students to complete the second half of the course with less time pressures.

The feedback I have regarding the delivery of RSCH20001 is all positive. I believe it steps the candidates through the research process just deeply enough for them to gather their thoughts in terms of their project and aids in their ability to articulate their 'road map' to success (research proposal). I totally agree that the candidates should not enrol prior to six months, so they have time to engage with the literature on the topic prior to participating. Two of my most recent attendees did not share their early drafts of assessment 1 and 2 with me, which I was a bit annoyed about, but they grew their work from the feedback they received from the unit coordinator. Thanks for your hard work!

Recommendation

Continue to provide support for students to think through their own projects and develop critical thinking skills to fully understand the different stages of a research project.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Write using the language of research
2. Construct a Literature Review by critically analysing and synthesising references that have been located manually and/or electronically from a variety of sources
3. Critique a range of research approaches and paradigms that guide the systematic approach to conducting a research project
4. Integrate theory into the design of a research project
5. Apply critical and analytical skills and academic standards to research project design and thesis writing
6. Evaluate data collection and analysis methods
7. Create a research proposal.

None to note.

Assessment Tasks

1 Annotated bibliography

Assessment Type

Annotated bibliography

Task Description

You need to prepare an annotated bibliography of three (3) journal articles closely related to your proposed research project. Note: The annotations must not simply be a review of just the content of the reference. They need to demonstrate your ability to critically evaluate and analyse the literature and relate its relevance to your proposed research project. It would be expected that the literature used in this assignment would be relevant to assessment items 2, 3 and 4 in this unit. You can choose any standard referencing style, but it must be consistent throughout the entire assignment. Check with your Research Supervisor(s) about which referencing style you should be using for your thesis.

Assessment Due Date

Week 2 Monday (15 Nov 2021) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

Assignments are returned in order of marking

Weighting

Pass/Fail

Assessment Criteria

The annotations must not simply be a review of the content of the references. You need to demonstrate your ability to critically evaluate and analyse the literature and explain how it is relevant to your proposed research topic. It would be expected that the literature used in this assignment would also be relevant to assessment items 2, 3 and 4 in this unit. Overview of the assessment criteria

- introduction provided the context for selecting the references
- referencing style for thesis is documented
- journal articles chosen for the annotated bibliography were clearly relevant to the proposed research project;
- a clear, concise summary of each reference;
- clear, concise academic writing;
- evaluation of the author(s) credentials;
- linkage of each annotation to your proposed research topic;
- critical analysis of the references;
- correct layout for an annotated bibliography;
- used an appropriate referencing style;
- correct spelling and grammar.

It will be assessed as Satisfactory or Resubmit - Resubmission is due within seven days

2 Initial literature review

Assessment Type

Literature Review or Systematic Review

Task Description

You are required to write an initial literature review focusing on previous research related to your proposed study. Use the literature to support the identification of your research problem and to highlight the gap in the existing research that needs to be filled. It should document the connections you have made between the source texts that you draw upon and where you position your research among the extant literature. It should demonstrate to the reader that you have engaged with, understood and responded to the relevant body of knowledge underpinning your proposed research project. This initial literature review is more than just documenting relevant information, and it should go beyond being a descriptive annotated bibliography. The initial literature review should summarise, critically evaluate, synthesise, and clearly link the literature to your proposed project.

Assessment Due Date

Week 5 Friday (17 Dec 2021) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

The initial literature review must not simply be a review of the content of the references. You need to demonstrate your ability to critically evaluate and analyse the literature and explain how it is relevant to your proposed research topic. It should go beyond being a descriptive annotated bibliography. It should synthesise the literature into themes.

Overview of the assessment criteria

- introduction described the purpose of the literature review and linked the literature review to the proposed research project;
- provided the context for selecting the references and a clear description of the criteria used to select the literature;

3 Research methodology / design

Assessment Type

Research Assignment

Task Description

This assessment item requires you to build on the research foundations, research processes, research methods and practices that you have explored in this unit. It is expected that by this time you will have a clearly defined research project in consultation with your research supervisor(s). Guided by theory and your examination of the research methodologies, you should be able to formulate a research design for your proposed research project. This assignment has two parts:

In Part One of this assignment please provide a short reflective statement (300 words) that demonstrates how consultation with your supervision team has assisted with the development of your research project, since being admitted as a research candidate. Specifically, you should describe the key topics that you have discussed with your supervision panel and how this has contributed to your understanding or clarification of the proposed research. Your reflection should also include a summary of the guidance you have received from your supervision team, after you have shared with them the feedback and learning you have experienced in the RSCH20001 unit to date.

In Part Two of this assignment you need to outline the overall research strategy that you will employ to integrate the various components of your proposed research project in a logical and coherent manner. The research design must ensure that you will effectively address the research problem you have identified. It must include the research aims and objectives, the research questions and/or hypotheses you propose to answer, and the research paradigm, methodology, research methods and techniques you intend to use to collect and analyse data for your proposed research project. If your project involves animals and/or human participants please address the ethical statement.

Assessment Due Date

Week 9 Monday (17 Jan 2022) 11:45 pm AEST

Return Date to Students

Assignments will be returned in order of marking

Weighting

Assessment Criteria

The full assessment specification (requirements and assessment criteria) is available on the Moodle unit website. Overview of the assessment criteria:

- a clear outline of your proposed research project, aims and objectives;
- appropriateness of your research questions and/or hypotheses;
- the linkage between the proposed research topic and the research design, methodology and methods/techniques;
- analysis and justification of research methods/techniques;
- justification of the suitability of the methods/techniques to the proposed research project;
- conclusion accurately sums up your research design;
- used an appropriate referencing style;
- academic writing style suitable to an RHD thesis;

4 Draft Confirmation of Candidature document

Assessment Type

Research Proposal

Task Description

This final assessment has been designed to help you to construct Section A of your CoC submission. It aligns with the requirements of the CoC Submission described in the Confirmation of Candidature Procedure. To construct this assessment, you draw upon work undertaken in previous Assessment items in this unit (RSCH20001).

It should be noted that a Pass result in RSCH20001 does not imply that you will pass your Confirmation of Candidature. The grade awarded in RSCH20001 reflects your ability to meet the learning outcomes, which includes generic skills such as communication and analytical skills. It will be assessed by someone who is typically not a content expert in your field. By contrast, the Confirmation of Candidature document will be assessed against the expectations of a masters or doctoral degree, according to the conventions in your discipline area, and according to the judgement of two experts from the field.

Please note that your final Confirmation of Candidature submission document will need to comply with CQUniversity's Confirmation of Candidature Procedure which has a Section A and a Section B. Section A only is required for this assessment. When completing your CoC submission you need to ensure that you have fulfilled ALL the requirements outlined in the Confirmation of Candidature Procedure.

The format of this assessment will be dependent on both the level of the degree in which you are enrolled (Masters by coursework, Masters by research, Professional Doctorate, or Doctor of Philosophy), and the discipline area of the proposed research project (discipline areas may have specific requirements imposed on their students). You need to consult with your Research Supervisors and Unit Coordinator if you are unsure. You should also consult the University policy regarding the requirements for candidature of the degree in which you are enrolled. See Research Higher Degree

Course Rules Policy and Procedure.

Your assessment should provide a rationale for the proposed investigation. It should also justify your choice of research design and selection of research methodology and associated methods. You need to include a comprehensive literature review of previous studies pertinent to your proposed research project and a plan of your thesis (chapter outline). You are strongly encouraged to frequently discuss issues encountered during the development of your assessment submission with your Research Supervisors and/or the Unit Coordinator.

Assessment Due Date

- the abstract accurately summarises the proposed research project;
- the table of contents contains the main headings and sub-headings;
- the introduction clearly introduces the proposed research project;
- realistic aims and objectives that link to your anticipated outcomes;
- research questions and/or hypotheses that address the research problem;

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
