

RSCH20002 English for Research

Term 2 - 2019

Profile information current as at 29/04/2024 09:47 pm

All details in this unit profile for RSCH20002 have been officially approved by CQUUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit aims to provide masters and doctoral Research higher degree (RHD) students with the knowledge and skills necessary to successfully communicate in English. You will become familiar with the academic skills required for effective reading, writing, listening and spoken English. The assessment in this unit will align with individual goals and have direct correlation to your own research. The assessment supports the development of advanced skills and confidence in using English for academic purposes at CQUUniversity. This unit will be available to any candidate studying a Research Higher Degree (i.e. masters by research or doctoral level study), and is particularly suited to candidates from non-English speaking backgrounds, be those either domestic or international enrolments. Candidates can self-select to enrol in this unit, or may be asked to do so under direction of their Supervisory Panel or Research Division.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation

Feedback

The course provided what was expected, some courses miss the mark, not this one.

Recommendation

Create teaching and learning activities that support RHD candidates from diverse backgrounds and tailor the activities to enhance the candidate's unique area of research.

Feedback

The unit really addresses the need of international students. It answers the questions that we come across during our writing. The pool of resources on the moodle site is very helpful.

Recommendation

Provide feedback that supports RHD candidates at different language competency levels and specifically supporting students from non-English speaking backgrounds.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation

Feedback

Student interaction and resources shared were very useful. Having all the information from the unit on Moodle was helpful.

Recommendation

Encourage students to engage and interact during ZOOM sessions and ensure the unit resources on Moodle are updated and relevant.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation

Feedback

More information on basic grammar, sentence structure and writing presentation. More time spent on thesis writing and article writing.

Recommendation

Provide additional resources to improve the students' writing skills and confidence in basic grammar, syntax and academic writing.

Feedback from Unit Evaluation

Feedback

Course does not focus on listening and speaking enough.

Recommendation

Provide more resources to improve the students' skills and confidence in their listening and oral expression. Encourage students to attend RHD workshops around oration skills.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Apply standard English language conventions to texts for academic purposes
2. Use active listening skills to produce written texts according to audience and purpose
3. Apply analytical reading skills to produce written texts according to audience and purpose
4. Create and deliver an oral presentation
5. Reflect on feedback to develop lifelong learning skills in collaborative contexts

There is no relevant external accreditation.

2 Assessment 2: Oral Presentation

Assessment Type

Presentation

Task Description

As a researcher, we often interact with multiple communities about what we do; sharing our methods and findings, soliciting feedback and information and creating new networks for further work. One common vehicle for such engagement is oral presentations; often delivered at conferences and other research settings. The aim of this assessment is to enhance your oral presentation skills and receive feedback to improve your presentation confidence.

Structure. The Oral Presentations will be delivered via a ZOOM symposium in Week 7. Slides should be submitted via Moodle online three days prior to the session.

Prepare a 5 minute presentation to include:

- An outline of your proposed thesis topic
- What the existing literature indicates around this thesis
- What are your proposed research strategies / methods of gathering and evaluating data
- What are you hoping to achieve through this research
- What are the implications for the future from this research

Assessment Due Date

Week 7 Monday (2 Sept 2019) 11:45 pm AEST

Oral presentation

Return Date to Students

Week 9 Monday (16 Sept 2019)

Students will receive written feedback on this assessment via Moodle.

Weighting

Pass/Fail

Minimum mark or grade

Students must pass all pieces of assessment to pass the unit.

Assessment Criteria

This assessment task is marked according to how well you have met the specified requirements, and in accordance with the assessment criteria outlined below.

Integration - background research in the tertiary education context are discussed and aligned with consideration of scholarly literature and personal dispositions.

Reflection - critical reflection is evidenced in presented research.

Communication and presentation - all work is of an academic standard (well written with correct spelling, grammar, syntax and referenced). Presentation is engaging and takes account of diverse audience needs. Clarity of purpose and coherence of oral expression (vocalisation, accent management, pronunciation and grammar); appropriate oral and written conventions used.

Technological implementation - competency in the zoom technology that supports your presentation.

Personal and professional development - demonstration of personal learning including elements of planning, self-direction, seeking feedback, and commitment to quality improvement.

Assessment task 3

Return Date to Students

Exam Week Monday (21 Oct 2019)

Students will receive written feedback on this assessment via Moodle.

Weighting

Pass/Fail

Minimum mark or grade

Students must pass all pieces of assessment to pass the unit.

Assessment Criteria

While the nature and the scope of the final project deliverable will vary somewhat between students, all deliverables will be assessed by four final criteria:

Scholarship – critical analysis and interpretation of own research topic to create original texts.

Reflection - critical reflection on self and demonstration of elements of planning, self-direction, seeking feedback, and commitment to personal and professional improvement.

Communication and presentation - The written tasks are in alignment with professional standards for the required genre. Demonstrated understanding of paragraph structure, paraphrasing, embedded quotations, referencing to create original texts. The tasks are written in clear and concise language and all work is of an academic standard.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
