General Information

Overview

This unit is designed to equip you with a comprehensive knowledge of contemporary trends in the regulation and management of health and safety in organisations. You will explore legal liability for health and safety and examine contemporary statutory developments regarding prevention. In addition, you will become acquainted with modern corporate governance and due diligence requirements which provide the impetus for the implementation of effective risk-based health and safety management and its integration with organisational business processes.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Discussion between unit coordinator and unit lecturers.

Feedback

Review assessment.

Recommendation

The assessment will be reviewed to determine whether it is too complex for the unit.

Feedback from Discussion between unit coordinator and unit lecturers.

Feedback

Inclusion of ALC

Recommendation

As the unit cohort is increasingly comprising Master of Public Health students, who take this unit as one of their electives, consideration will be given to including ALC sessions to outline and reinforce academic integrity matters and general assessment writing skills.
