

SOWK11014 Contemporary Human Services

Term 2 - 2021

Profile information current as at 25/04/2024 05:48 am

All details in this unit profile for SOWK11014 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

This unit will introduce you to social work and human services in Australia and the changing context for professional practice within contemporary society. You will develop an understanding of the historical and cultural context of social work, and human services more broadly, within the Australian welfare state and how these services are currently organised and delivered. You will be able to conceptualise social justice, inequality and disadvantage and their significance to professional practice. You will understand the values, ethics and principles of social work and human services, and how these inform methods of practice. This unit will focus on the human services context of professional practice and the broader challenges and opportunities within the social services sector. Consideration will be given to reflective practice and the 'use of self' and how social workers navigate complex systems of service delivery.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

This list is not an exhaustive list of all University policies. The full list of University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Examine the historical and contemporary context of service delivery within Australian human service organisations;
2. Critique the concepts of social justice, and inequality, and how these inform professional social work practice within Australian human service organisations;
3. Appraise the key values, ethics, principles and models of practice that inform professional practice in social work and human services;
4. Demonstrate critically reflective practice techniques.

This unit has been designed in accordance with the AASW (2020) curriculum guidelines. Please note the Residential School for this Unit requires compulsory attendance under the AASW accreditation guidelines, and has been undertaken in all previous years, other than during the Covid-19 pandemic in 2020. This is not a change to the Unit, it is a continuation of the compliance with existing accreditation.

Term Specific Information

This unit is being taught through a combination of a three day compulsory residential to be held in Week 5: 13-15 August inclusive across a range of locations.

I will also hold some online lectures before and after the residential which will include opportunities for discussion and of course assessment discussion. I will also be pre-recording other lectures that you can then view at your own convenience. The unit structure has been developed to support your ability to successfully complete the assessments. The readings are there to guide you and will inform your assessment tasks, but importantly your understanding of the unit and practice.

Assessment Tasks

1 Social work and concepts informing practice (30%)

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Aim

As an emerging social worker, it is important to understand the historical and current context of social workers in addressing social injustice. The aim of this assessment is to explore the concepts of social justice and inequality and the role of social work historically and currently, with a focus on the Australian cultural context.

Instructions

Within this assignment, the set out will be as below

1. Cover page- include your name, student number, course code and assessment details and word count

1. INTRODUCTION (100 words)

2. PAST TO THE PRESENT

Explore the historical context of social work in human services both nationally and internationally. Identify key discourses that have shaped the profession. (550 words)

3. CRITICAL ANALYSIS

Critically examine the current discourse/s shaping social work in Australia, identifying key implications on the work of social work with respect to social justice and inequality. (750 words)

4. CONCLUSION (100 words)

5. REFERENCES

Please follow the steps below to complete your assessment task:

Use headers as shown above

The follow words help to understand the writing parameters of this assignment:

Explore: inquire into or discuss in detail

Examine: to look at or consider the thing carefully and in detail in order to discover something about them

Describe: give a detailed account

Critique: a detailed analysis and assessment of something

The introduction has five important responsibilities: get the audience 's attention, introduce the topic, explain its relevance to the audience, state a thesis or purpose, and outline the main points. By the end of the introduction, you should provide a road map that outlines your main points.

The conclusion of an assignment should therefore convey a sense of completeness and closure of the topic, its larger meaning, its implications: the final paragraph should close the discussion.

Literature and references

In this assessment use at least 7 contemporary references (<10 years) to support your discussion. You may also use seminal scholarly literature where relevant. Suitable references include peer-reviewed journal articles as well as textbooks and credible websites. When sourcing information, consider the 5 elements of a quality reference: currency, authority, relevance, objectivity, and coverage. Grey literature sourced from the internet must be from reputable websites such as from government, university, or peak national bodies: for example, the Australian Association of Social Workers, International Federation of Social Workers, ACOSS, WHO.

Task Description

Aim

The aim of this assessment is to now move to a core aim of social work, which relates to addressing social justice and human rights issues. You will do this by identifying a social issue that leads to inequality and critically discuss how social work contributes to addressing the issue, drawing on evidence. Issues may include for example, youth or adult justice, drug and alcohol, homelessness, child protection, mental health, poverty, etc. Consider the strategies and challenges to addressing the issues at a macro level.

Instructions

Within this assignment, the set out will be as below:

- 1. Cover page- include your name, student number, course code and assessment details and word count
- 2. INTRODUCTION (100 words)

3. The introduction has five important responsibilities: get the audience 's attention, introduce the topic, explain its relevance to the audience, state a thesis or purpose, and outline the main points. By the end of the introduction, you should provide a road map that outlines your main points.

4. The conclusion of an assignment should therefore convey a sense of completeness and closure of the topic, its larger meaning, its implications: the final paragraph should close the discussion.

Literature and references

In this assessment use at least 9 contemporary references (<10 years) to support your discussion. You may also use seminal scholarly literature where relevant. Suitable references include peer-reviewed journal articles as well as textbooks and credible websites. When sourcing information, consider the 5 elements of a quality reference: currency, authority, relevance, objectivity, and coverage. Grey literature sourced from the internet must be from reputable websites such as from government, university, or peak national bodies: for example, the Australian Association of Social Workers, ACOSS.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
