General Information

Overview

This unit is designed so that you are able to compare different approaches to community practice and provide the relevant knowledge and skills to critically analyse contexts for community work. You will develop appropriate strategic responses in a range of differing community contexts, including different cultural contexts and from an international perspective. You will develop an understanding of social innovation and the use of social entrepreneurship and social enterprise within communities.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Head of Course and College review feedback.

Feedback

Students value the focus on community practice and the opportunity to engage with real-world issues, with particular appreciation for applied learning activities that connect theory to practice. There is an opportunity to further group work and contemporary examples of activism from a global social work perspective in this unit.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the unit continue to strengthen collaborative learning approaches, including expanded opportunities for group work, alongside the integration of global perspectives on community practice and social work activism. This has been implemented through a review and redesign of the unit, incorporating more applied group-based activities and the inclusion of international examples of community practice and activism. These changes aim to deepen student engagement, broaden perspectives, and enhance understanding of community practice in diverse contexts.
