General Information

Overview

This unit provides you with an overview of the ideas and practices of contemporary management and leadership and relates these to social work practice. You should be able to critically analyse the role of social worker as a manager, evaluate management and leadership approaches, and explore alternative leadership strategies to assist in the integration of social work values and ethics alongside the role of the manager and specific agency requirements for the delivery of services. You should be able to propose leadership models appropriate to social work practice contexts and provide relevant strategies to promote social work values and ethics, and collaborative leadership. You will have opportunities in this unit to integrate your learning with experiences in the workplace or field education.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Online classes

Feedback

Some students reported that completing a group assessment as the final assessment task presented challenges, particularly in managing the collaborative requirements at the end of the teaching term.

Recommendation

Review the timing and implementation of the final group assessment in consultation with the teaching team and student feedback to identify opportunities to reduce unnecessary stress while maintaining the intended learning outcomes.

Feedback from UC

Feedback

Student feedback highlighted the minimum pass requirement as an area for consideration during the unit review process.

Recommendation

Following discussion with the Head of College, it was confirmed that completion of this unit does not need to be a prerequisite for progression to placement. Accordingly, the minimum pass requirement will be removed, subject to approval through the Course Committee (CC), to ensure the unit requirements are appropriately aligned with the course progression requirements.
