General Information

Overview

The final theory unit in the Bachelor of Social Work (Honours) course provides students with advanced knowledge of social work theory and its relevance to social work practice. This unit requires students to build upon social research methods learning and practice knowledge gained from Field Education 1 (SOWK13009) and Integrating Theory and Practice 1 (SOWK13010) to apply research knowledge and skills to address the needs and aspirations of individuals, groups and communities to achieve socially just outcomes. Students will demonstrate graduate ability to apply research knowledge and skills and use research to inform practice and to develop, execute and disseminate research informed by practice. This unit is a co-requisite to SOWK14009 and is only available at the time the student undertakes field education unless prior approval has been granted by the School.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Have your Say

Feedback

Information on 'what to do' when the practice issue has limited or no evidence base

Recommendation

Expand on practice-based evidence as part of the unit to improve critique.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Evaluate your performance from feedback drawn from your involvement in professional learning contexts
2. Construct and critically evaluate a Professional Practice Framework (PPF) and demonstrate how that PPF is informed by social work theory, ethics and AASW practice standards
3. Demonstrate knowledge and proficiency utilising frameworks of critical analysis and reflective practice
4. Apply research knowledge and skills to undertake research informed practice congruent with social work values and ethics
5. Explore complex and sensitive social issues and problems to achieve socially just outcomes
6. Present a clear and coherent exposition of knowledge and ideas to a variety of audiences in both oral and written form.

The learning outcomes in this unit are linked to the AASW social work graduate attributes outlined in the Australian Social Work Education and Accreditation Standards (2015).

Assessment Tasks

1 Art and Science of Social Work - Common Factors for Therapeutic Relationship

Assessment Type

Presentation and Written Assessment

Task Description

Focus Statement

Social work is considered by many as both an art and a science. You have been learning about the importance of supporting and evidencing practice with research and knowledge to better articulate, support and improve the quality of your interventions and practice approaches with individuals and groups. This task focuses on the relational aspects of our work including use of self and factors that enhance the quality of the therapeutic or support relationship.

Product

In addition to applying the best available evidence for treatment or intervention approaches (the focus of Assessment 2), other key factors must be considered and incorporated into our practice. One example of this is the importance of the therapeutic relationship. Research has consistently identified specific practitioner and treatment or intervention characteristics that are likely to influence the quality of the therapeutic relationship and therefore the strength of a range of therapeutic intervention choices. These include :

*accurate empathy * warmth * positive regard * cultivating hope * adapting intervention to the client's stage of change * cultural sensitivity and safe practice.

Using a format that is meaningful to you, reflect on and synthesise research and knowledge about the common factors for an effective therapeutic / support relationship in your practice context.

Your submission can be in any of the below formats (15 - 20 mins max / 1800 words commentary) describing and critically evaluating the application of specific skills and approaches to support the therapeutic relationship within your organisational / placement context. If your placement is not in direct practice, you should direct your presentation to the field of practice your organisation is funded to service (e.g., If you are in policy within domestic and family violence you should focus on frontline practitioners / practice in domestic and family violence work, if you are in a community development role focusing on homelessness, you should target your presentation to be delivered to frontline workers supporting those impacted by homelessness). Your presentation should include an overview of current research related to the common factors for an effective therapeutic relationship within that service context.

- 15-20 mins podcast
- A recorded presentation with slides (PPT) (15-20 mins)
- A series of social media posts for a practice interest group in your area
- A short video (15-20 mins)
- A training program overview with content for delivery of (1) session of your choosing
- A manual / handbook for unfamiliar staff covering content
- A series of blog posts or an article for LinkedIn or other career / practice site (with references)
- Any artistic product that combines verbal / written and visual representation (your written analysis should include the drafting process, explanation of techniques or approaches and how they relate to the therapeutic relationship factors you researched for your chosen practice context.

All submissions must not exceed 20 mins and must include 1800 words including references commentary / written support.

Podcast or Audio / Video presentation – 15 mins max

Commentary Notes – 1800 words (adhering to scholarly conventions)

Recorded presentation / PPT – 15 PPT slides max including reference slide (should not exceed 20 mins) 1800 words commentary support

Blog posts / Social Media posts etc -1800 words (adhering to scholarly conventions)
 Training manual / handbook – 1800 words (excluding images, tables, figures)

2 Evidence Based Practice – Clinical Social Work

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Focus Statement

Evidence based practice (EBP) has become an important influence on clinical social work practice. EBP is a process of locating and evaluating prior relevant research and is considered a collaborative, individualised intervention planning process between practitioner and the client. Research is an important part of social work practice and EBP balances the science and art of social work effectively.

Your role

Using either case study (1) or (2) located on Moodle, you are a graduate social worker responsible for the intervention work with the client. You are to utilise an EBP process (practiced at residential school) to present your findings and recommendations for intervention with the client.

- (a) Assessment of the client's concerns, strengths, and support systems;
- (b) Locate and synthesise the findings of relevant Australian or International research evidence related to the presenting issue / concern / need.
- (c) Reference to the values and preferences / particular needs of the client; and
- (d) Reflection related to your social work practice framework, level of clinical expertise and any adjustments made with regards to supervision or professional development needs.

Product

You are to prepare a written essay outlining the evidence-based practice intervention response related to your selected client presentation. Your essay will address each of the four prompts above and address the grading criteria. Your essay should provide a synthesis of the findings and 6 step process, to provide an evidence based, social work recommendation for intervention. You should begin by formulating an answerable question that will form the basis of your review for evidence-based practice. You will use the search strategy outlined on Moodle to locate and review studies for inclusion in your essay and intervention. Your question must be sufficient to support a search of existing research literature. Your question may be related to clinical social work practice. Your research process should adhere to the following 6 steps for EBP:

Step 1: Assessment of client needs or presenting issues. The assessment informs an answerable practice question and case information needs

Step 2: The location of relevant research knowledge related to the practice question

Step 3: Critical appraisal of the quality and relevance or applicability of this knowledge to the specific client's needs and situation

Step 4: Identification of how and what would be discussed with the client to collaboratively determine how the research results fit with the client's values and goals. Outline how you would ensure the client's culture, values, and personal preferences could be incorporated to the treatment options.

Step 5: Synthesis and discussion of the client's needs and circumstances with the relevant research results and overall plan of intervention described.

Step 6: Discussion about how you would evaluate / review / collaborate with the client around the intervention and how the approach is working for the client.

Your paper should adhere to scholarly conventions and should draw from relevant social work literature, practice standards and ethical considerations.

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
