General Information

Overview

In this unit you will advance your knowledge in the aetiology, assessment, diagnosis, prognosis, and management of stuttering and voice conditions in children and adults. The International Classification of Functioning, Disability, and Health framework will provide context and structure to assist you in assessment, prevention, and management planning. Evidence-based and interprofessional practice will provide the foundation for your learning in all stages of assessment and management. Service provision in diverse communities and contexts will be discussed.

Attendance Requirements

All on-campus students are expected to attend scheduled classes – in some units, these classes are identified as a mandatory (pass/fail) component and attendance is compulsory. International students, on a student visa, must maintain a full time study load and meet both attendance and academic progress requirements in each study period (satisfactory attendance for International students is defined as maintaining at least an 80% attendance record).

Website

This unit has a website, within the Moodle system, which is available two weeks before the start of term. It is important that you visit your Moodle site throughout the term. Please visit Moodle for more information.

Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Unit Evaluations

Feedback

Students commented that more time or better organisation of aetiology/conditions week content is needed.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the aetiology/condition content be reviewed to ensure optimal organisation and accessibility.

Feedback from Student Unit Evaluations and Unit Coordinator Reflection

Feedback

Upon reflection, students would benefit from clear expectations regarding participation in tutorial activities.

Recommendation

It is recommended that the Unit Coordinator provide comprehensive scaffolding by establishing clear expectations from the beginning of the unit (e.g., students will research, develop, practice, and teach assigned voice therapy techniques to peers).
