

THTR11121 Theatre Studies 2: Introduction to Script Analysis

Term 2 - 2019

Profile information current as at 09/05/2024 05:44 pm

All details in this unit profile for THTR11121 have been officially approved by CQUniversity and represent a learning partnership between the University and you (our student). The information will not be changed unless absolutely necessary and any change will be clearly indicated by an approved correction included in the profile.

General Information

Overview

In this unit you will learn how to analyse various theatrical texts from the Renaissance to the present day. You will analyse important primary source material for meaning and functionality, exploring the concept that plays are designed to be performed and are therefore constructed in specific ways to maximise their effect onstage.

Assessment Grading

This is a graded unit: your overall grade will be calculated from the marks or grades for each assessment task, based on the relative weightings shown in the table above. You must obtain an overall mark for the unit of at least 50%, or an overall grade of 'pass' in order to pass the unit. If any 'pass/fail' tasks are shown in the table above they must also be completed successfully ('pass' grade). You must also meet any minimum mark requirements specified for a particular assessment task, as detailed in the 'assessment task' section (note that in some instances, the minimum mark for a task may be greater than 50%). Consult the University's Grades and Results Policy for more details of interim results and final grades.

CQUniversity Policies

All University policies are available on the CQUniversity Policy site.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Analyse selected play scripts to identify important elements relating to character, place and action within the context of the whole work
2. Identify and discuss specific examples from primary sources that influence the practical staging choices for each play
3. Relate the selected scripts to the broader, social and cultural contexts of their respective historical periods.

Term Specific Information

This unit is designed to help you learn how to read drama as a performance based art form and imagine the transition from page to stage. Script analysis is a reading technique that allows you, as a theatre artist, to fully understand the meaning and functionality of a play; to understand that plays are designed to be performed, and that, as such, they are constructed in specific ways to maximize their effect onstage.

For Semester 2 2019 the schedule has been designed to accommodate the timetable for the intensive production period for the Bachelor of Theatre students in Mackay. Distance students may apply for alternative due dates for the assessments. Distance students must apply for alternative dates before the listed due date. Please contact Dr Linda Lorenza l.lorenza@cqu.edu.au to arrange alternative submission dates.

Assessment Tasks

1 Given Circumstances

Assessment Type

Research Assignment

Task Description

Complete a formalist text analysis of William Shakespeare's Hamlet and Anne Washburn's Mr Burns Act 1.

PART 1: Analysis table due by online submission 9am Monday 29 July 2019

Analyse the first Act from each play. Examine the dramatic potential of each given circumstance: Time, Place, Society, Economics, Politics and Law, Learning and the Arts, Spirituality, and the World of the Play. Where possible, explore each given circumstance from the character perspective of Hamlet (Hamlet) and Matt (Mr Burns). If a particular given circumstance does not have a strong impact on the dramatic potential of the text, either in the scene or the play as a whole, note why this is the case. Remember to focus your analysis on the practical purpose of the text, i.e. staging the play rather than from the perspective of dramatic literature.

Complete this initial analysis in the table and submit online by 9am Monday 29 July 2019.

PART 2: Short essay due by online submission Monday 5 August 2019 9am

Revisit the analysis table. Choose one scene from Hamlet Act One. Examine the dramatic potential of each given circumstance: Time, Place, Society, Economics, Politics and Law, Learning and the Arts, Spirituality, and the World of the Play. Where possible, explore each given circumstance from the character perspective of Hamlet. If a particular given circumstance does not have a strong impact on the dramatic potential of the text, either in the scene or the play as a whole, discuss why this is the case. Use references from the primary source to inform your analysis. Remember to focus your analysis on the practical purpose of the text, i.e. staging the play rather than from the perspective of dramatic literature.

Word count: 1500

The word count is considered from the first word of the introduction to the last word of the conclusion. It excludes the cover page, abstract, contents page, reference page and appendices. It includes in-text references and direct quotations.

Presentation:

This assignment is to be saved as a Word document and submitted online through the course website.

Use 12 point Times New Roman font.

Assessment Type

Research Assignment

Task Description

Complete a formalist text analysis of William Shakespeare's Macbeth, and Ibsen's Hedda Gabler, focusing on plot progressions and structure.

PART 1: Analysis table due Monday 19 August 2019 9am

Complete a formalist text analysis of William Shakespeare's Macbeth and Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler.

Examine the structure of the play including: inciting action, main obstacles and complications, three major climaxes of the play, minor climaxes, reversals, and resolutions. Where possible, explore progressions and structure from the character perspective of Macbeth. Remember to focus your analysis on the practical purpose of the text, i.e. staging the play rather than from the perspective of dramatic literature.

Complete this initial analysis in the table and submit online by Monday 19 August 2019 9am.

PART 2: Short essay

Revisit the analysis table.

Complete a formalist text analysis of William Shakespeare's Macbeth OR Henrik Ibsen's Hedda Gabler.

Examine the structure of the play including: inciting action, main obstacles and complications, three major climaxes of the play, minor climaxes, reversals, and resolutions. Where possible, explore progressions and structure from the character perspective of Macbeth or Hedda. Use references from the primary source to inform your analysis. Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
