Previous Student Feedback

Feedback, Recommendations and Responses

Every unit is reviewed for enhancement each year. At the most recent review, the following staff and student feedback items were identified and recommendations were made.

Feedback from Student Feedback.

Feedback

I wasn't aware that the Online Learning Log was needed to be completed within each week. While that was an easy assumption to make and altogether better for my learning, as it neither said on the assignment upload page or on the criteria sheet I wrote the posts sparingly and didn't upload them until the end. I think stating: forum posts due each week, and a point of this assignment is student discussion, this assignment would have gone down more smoothly. As it is I really enjoyed the assignment, there are many things it made me think of for my writing that I wouldn't have otherwise.

Recommendation

A statement will be included on the assessment item description that the weekly responses for the learning log are due weekly (rather than completed in one 'hit'). However, the word 'weekly' was stated five times in this assessment item description, and all students received regular reminders via EASICONNECT messages and forum post messages to complete their responses on a weekly basis using the Discussion Forums located in each weekly Topic Section on the unit moodle site.

Unit Learning Outcomes

On successful completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Demonstrate an understanding of the process of drafting and redrafting a sustained piece of creative writing.

Term Specific Information

NOTE: The submission of Assessment Item 1 - The Proposal - according to the stipulated due date and assessment item description is a requirement of this unit. Because The Proposal represents the student's account of what they hope to achieve as regards their creative work (that is, the 'creative artefact'), failure to submit a proposal according to the stipulated due date and assessment item description will normally result in AF (absent fail).

NOTE: Late assignments submitted without an approved extension request may receive a grade but no feedback.

Assessment Tasks

1 Assessment Item 1: Proposal/Pitch

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Students are required to develop a 500 word 'proposal/pitch' for a publication of their choice (e.g. Magazine, journal, literary review, etc.).

The 'proposal/pitch' will include an outline describing the basic themes, plot/story line or concept of the writing project for the Term and must be topic specific to the submission requirements of the chosen publication. The publication will dictate topic, tone, required images, word length, etc. The aim of the pitch is twofold: a) to show how the student's chosen topic fits the publication criteria; and b) to ensure the writing piece will be developed and written in a suitable and appropriate way. The proposal/pitch is the student's negotiation the topic with their lecturer.

The Pitch/Proposal is non-graded but it is a condition of the unit that the item must be submitted and approved. Your proposal/pitch must identify a publication of choice (e.g. Magazine, journal, literary review, etc.). Your creative writing project will be determined by the submission requirements of the chosen publication, but may take the form of a short story, play, suite of poems, a children's story, or any approved mixture of these, and must indicate a specific experimental writing technique to be used.

Your proposal/pitch should show evidence of research in regards to the chosen genre and form of your writing project, but should also show evidence of how your story, suite of poems, dramatic script, etc., will use experimental writing techniques, e.g., 'stream of consciousness, multiple viewpoint, realism, impressionism, etc., anti-realism, memoir,' among other types such as meta-fiction, Avant-pop, experimental life writing, or digital fiction, etc., (where relevant). Your proposal needs to explain the standard to which your final piece/s aspires as well as showing that it is actually achievable and the sources you have consulted (these details will be mediated, to some degree, by the requirements of the chosen publication). As the creative component of the final assessment for this unit is 2000 words in length, Your project may be in the form of two-three pieces totaling 2000 words (depending on the publication), or, one complete piece totaling 2000 words (again, depending on the submission requirements of your chosen publication). You will be encouraged to actually submit your piece/pieces to the publication of choice, although this is not compulsory nor a condition of the unit.

Hot Tips: (include in your submission):

- A clear conceptualisation of the project taking into account the requirements of the unit and those of the publication of choice;

- A description of the 'standard' to which the work aspires based on research and the requirements of the named publication of choice (e.g., if you intend on writing a 'magic realism children's story' then state the indicators for this genre and the literary qualities that make your creative artefact a magic realist children's story and not some other genre);
- Explanation of the characteristics of the chosen genre and how the artefact contributes, reworks, experiments with and/or affirms these; Some idea of the method to be used in producing the artefact (i.e. beyond just sitting and writing - what research is needed, how will this influence what is written, timelines, publication requirements, etc.);
- Where appropriate, a brief review of relevant subject matter (for example, if you intent to write a surrealist memoir based on a real historical figure, then some research on this figure and the context in which they lived would be appropriate as well as an indication if primary source material is actually available, etc.)
- Any other relevant detail relating to the intended writing project and the publication of choice.

NOTE: The specified word limit for this item (500 words) does not include the reference list or the week-by-week timeline. Also, there is a 10%+/- allowable variance over or under the stipulated word count.

Return Date to Students

Weighting

Assessment Criteria

The Proposal will be evaluated according to the extent to which:

1. the proposal clearly identifies the publication of choice and includes a link to the publication's website
2. the proposal evidences that it will carry-out a clearly articulated set of outcomes in reference to the genre and form of the writing project (e.g., writing the first chapter of a novel, writing a series of ten poems, writing a dramatic script, writing a short story, writing a children's book, etc.)
3. the proposal identifies the specific publication of choice and the style in which the content of the creative artefact will be written (e.g., stream of consciousness, multiple viewpoint, realism, impressionism, etc., anti-realism, memoire, paranormal, metafiction, Avant-pop, experimental life writing, or digital fiction, etc.)
4. the proposal of the creative artefact represents an original piece of writing according to the chosen genre and requirements of the nominated publication, and is of an achievable standard shown via a week-by-week timeline indicating what is to be undertaken and when in the writing process (including milestones, e.g., benchmarks achieved leading up to Assessment 2 - Critical Reflection Journal, benchmarks achieved leading up to Assessment 3 - Final Creative Artefact)
5. the proposal defines key literary concepts (e.g., 'point of view', 'short story', 'multiple viewpoint', 'magic realism', etc.), using at least 5 credible/scholarly sources identified as important in ensuring that your creative artefact is informed by the literary and stylistic conventions of your chosen genre, the specified style, and experimental writing technique/s in which the content will be written
6. the proposal is presented in a flawless literary presentation, formatting and referencing (Harvard Author-Date system).

2 Assessment Item 2: Critical Reflection Journal

Assessment Type

Written Assessment

Task Description

Students will be expected to keep a Poetry Journal during the term.

As the Journal is worth 45% of the overall mark, the standard expected will be high.

This will require creating weekly posts using the weekly Blog platforms on the e-Unit Moodle site that reflect your weekly progress through the writing process with specific reference to your experiences using/applying the experimental creative writing techniques under consideration.

You are expected to submit a total of nine (9) weekly entries, on a weekly basis, over the course of the Term: from Week 2 to Week 10 (inclusive). Each topic section of the e-Unit moodle site includes a Blog platform for the respective weekly topics.

Each entry is worth a total of 5 marks

Word count: no less than 2000 words, no more than 5000 words (references are not included in the overall word count)..

For submission of the assessment item, you will combine your 9 weekly entries (Week 2 to Week 10 inclusive) in a single word document and submit to moodle using the e-unit moodle submission platform for this item.

Please refer to the e-Unit Moodle site for specific detail and further information.

Remember, it is crucial that your critical reflection journal represents a deliberate process of 'stepping outside yourself' and viewing your work objectively: 'It asks us to think about our practice and ideas and then it challenges us to step-back and examine our thinking by asking probing questions. It asks us to not only delve into the past and look at the present but importantly it asks us to speculate about the future and act' (State Government of Victoria 2007).

2. the reflection journal provides critical commentary on the specific style in which the content of the creative artefact will be/has been written (e.g., stream of consciousness, multiple viewpoint, realism, impressionism, etc., anti-realism, memoir, paranormal, etc.)

Academic Integrity Statement

As a CQUniversity student you are expected to act honestly in all aspects of your academic work.

Any assessable work undertaken or submitted for review or assessment must be your own work. Assessable work is any type of work you do to meet the assessment requirements in the unit, including draft work submitted for review and feedback and final work to be assessed.

When you use the ideas, words or data of others in your assessment, you must thoroughly and clearly acknowledge the source of this information by using the correct referencing style for your unit. Using others' work without proper acknowledgement may be considered a form of intellectual dishonesty.

Participating honestly, respectfully, responsibly, and fairly in your university study ensures the CQUniversity qualification you earn will be valued as a true indication of your individual academic achievement and will continue to receive the respect and recognition it deserves.

As a student, you are responsible for reading and following CQUniversity's policies, including the Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure. This policy sets out CQUniversity's expectations of you to act with integrity, examples of academic integrity breaches to avoid, the processes used to address alleged breaches of academic integrity, and potential penalties.

What is a breach of academic integrity?

A breach of academic integrity includes but is not limited to plagiarism, self-plagiarism, collusion, cheating, contract cheating, and academic misconduct. The Student Academic Integrity Policy and Procedure defines what these terms mean and gives examples.

Why is academic integrity important?

A breach of academic integrity may result in one or more penalties, including suspension or even expulsion from the University. It can also have negative implications for student visas and future enrolment at CQUniversity or elsewhere. Students who engage in contract cheating also risk being blackmailed by contract cheating services.

Where can I get assistance?

For academic advice and guidance, the Academic Learning Centre \(ALC\) can support you in becoming confident in completing assessments with integrity and of high standard.

What can you do to act with integrity?

Be Honest

If your assessment task is done by someone else, it would be dishonest of you to claim it as your own

Seek Help

If you are not sure about how to cite or reference in essays, reports etc, then seek help from your lecturer, the library or the Academic Learning Centre (ALC)

Produce Original Work

Originality comes from your ability to read widely, think critically, and apply your gained knowledge to address a question or problem
